BIG VOTE PREDICTED IN COUNTY

INDICATIONS HERE THAT PRIMARY VOTE MAY BREAK RECORDS

Fair Weather Helps Bal-
loting—Many Bal-
lot Early

Fair weather helped make conditions ideal for the primary Tuesday and the heaviest vote in years is predicted. In fact political observers would not be surprised to see the day set a record in the number of votes cast.

Voters began crowding the polling places within five minutes after the polls opened at 5:30 a. m. standard time. The voting continued steadily for several hours when the first lull set in. Tabulation of figures in several city precincts revealed the fact that the vote was much heavier than anticipated.

It was almost a record for early voting for any election in recent years. Reports at noon indicated that the late afternoon rush would be almost inconsequential. A majority of the county and state offices went on the election block Tuesday. In some cases the campaign has been bitter in Greene County and this was expected to draw to the polls hundreds of persons who otherwise might not vote.

Women. It was noted particularly appeared to be taking an unusual interest in the election and the fair weather was expected to permit farmers to leave their threshing and harvest early enough to cast their votes.

The fight in this county is confined to the Republican ranks, the Democrats furnishing no opposition in so far as the local ticket is concerned.

The Republican fight in Greene County is centered upon the principal issue of control of the Republican County Central Committee and the nomination for four offices, sheriff, treasurer, auditor and recorder.

The vote in Precinct 8 was 111 Republicans and seven Democrats at 1 o'clock.

NEBRASKA PRIMARY ELECTION IS BEING STAGED TUESDAY

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 10.—After one of the quietest primary campaigns in the state's history, Nebraska today went to the polls to nominate candidates of four political parties for governor. Three of the parties—the Democratic, Progressive and LaFollette Independent—offered but one candidate for the gubernatorial nomination.

Republicans were offered their choice of nominating Governor Adam McMullen for another term or choosing between Robert G. Ross, former lively stable proprietor of Lexington, Neb., and Fred G. Johnson, Governor McMullen was an overwhelming favorite.

The much discussed farm relief problem aroused little discussion during the campaign.

Charles W. Bryan, former governor and Democratic vice-presidential nominee at the 1924 election is the only candidate seeking the Democratic gubernatorial position. Because of his lack of opposition in the primary campaign, the brother of the late William Jennings Bryan has preserved his campaign "ammunition" for use after today.

All of Nebraska's representatives to Congress are seeking re-election. A comparatively light vote was anticipated throughout the state, leaders of the two major parties said.

KENTUCKIAN HELD IN TRAIN WRECK

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 10.—William Shields, Cromwell Ky., is held at Troy, Ohio, pending investigation into the wrecking of a freight train on the Big Four Railroad, near Carlisle. Fifteen cars were derailed. No one was injured.

Authorities say Shields and two other persons whose identity has not been learned, were riding in an empty box car on the train. In an attempt to close the door of the car, when the train was moving, authorities say, the men knocked the door off its hinges and it fell against a switch, throwing it open. The other men escaped.

COLD DINNERS HERE
ALLIANCE, Aug. 10.—Alliance was without gas yesterday due to a break in the mains leading to the city. Cold dinners were served in homes, hotels and restaurants.

Catholics Urge Luxury Boycott

Trail of Publisher's Slayer Starts From Cleveland

DEBT NEGOTIATIONS RESUMED WITH GREECE BY TREASURY

Officials Resent French Attitude Toward Refunding
—Believe France Given Every Consideration

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—While the French debt tangle was in the spot light today treasury officials prepared to resume negotiations with Greece for settlement of her $15,000,000 war obligations. Government officials displayed resentment at France's attitude toward funding her debt. It was pointed out that under the Mellon-Berenger settlement the pre-armistice French obligation of $1,750,000,000 had been virtually cancelled and the agreement based on the post-armistice debt of $963,175,000.

Should France fail to ratify the debt pact, the United States is in a position to demand $407,000,000 from the debtor country in 1929. After the war France bought $407,000,000 worth of war supplies from America and this commercial debt falls due in 1929. At present it is embodied in the debt agreement but should this pact not be ratified, the French would have to pay up when the note fell due instead of funding it with the other debts, over sixty-two years.

Ratification of the Franco-American debt agreement and a settlement with Greece would probably settle all of America's outstanding war credits. The treasury has wiped Armenia's obligation off its books as it is no longer a country since the United States does not recognize Russia, that nation's debt cannot be the subject of any negotiation.

Austria is expected to open negotiation for funding its debt within the next few years.

DRILL FIFTH SHAFT AFTER MEN TRAPPED IN KENTUCKY MINE

Rock Strata Halts
Fourth Shaft—Water
Hinders

SALEM, Ky., Aug. 10.—With the stubborn earth defying every effort of modern science, company officials began today to drill the fifth shaft to reach five men imprisoned for nearly 100 hours in the American Fluoropar and Zinc Company's mine near here.

When the fourth rescue shaft, pushed forward by hours of grueling labor, was within a few feet of the men, a strata of impenetrable rock was encountered which made further progress impossible. Other rescue attempts have been frustrated by the seepage of water from an underground lake. Another disastrous impediment was breakdown of essential machinery. It has been sent to Memphis for repairs and has not yet returned.

The radical groups, it was said, plan to present an ultimatum to the government demanding that leaders of the labor union groups be put to death, and threatening a general strike if the government does not comply.

WOMEN WASH CARS BETTER THAN MEN

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 10.—Once more woman invades the domain of mere man and humbles him. Six khaki-clad, rubber aproned and rubber-booted women at an auto service station here are proving that they can wash cars faster and cleaner than men can.

"Women are more particular than men," says Fred Henderson, their employer. "Men don't insist on cleaning the dirt out of the corners," he continued. How do the women like it?

"Gosh, we like it a lot," answered Betty Kay, one of the expert car washers. Two of the women employed are mothers.

SIX INJURED

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Six persons were injured today when a switch engine smashed into the automobile in which they were riding. Three women and three men were the victims.

WILL ASK CONGRESS TO CREATE UNIFIED PATROL FOR BORDER

Claims Federal Police Force Would Save
Nation Money

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—General H. C. Smithers, chief co-ordinator of the United States will ask congress at its next session to enact legislation creating a unified border patrol, empowered to enforce all the laws of the nation in effect a federal police force. Such a force would save taxpayers thousands of dollars annually and would be more efficient than the half a dozen or more services now operating along our international boundary lines, General Smithers said today.

"A single homogeneous border patrol under one head would meet all needs. Now labor department agents on the border look after aliens, prohibition officers watch for rum smugglers, agricultural department investigators bar diseased plants, and public health physicians examine emigrants and custom officials guard against smuggling and collect duties."

"Under the co-ordination, one person could do the work that now takes five to perform."

General Smithers, pointed out that by eliminating duplication of border patrol activities a more uniform guard along the boundary lines could be maintained. Vast stretches of the borders now unguarded would be manned with federal policemen.

DEDICATE POOL

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 10.—The new $6,500 swimming pool at the Odd Fellows state home here will be dedicated August 21. H. D. Chaffin, state secretary of the Odd Fellows will participate.

Today was Helmy's fourth failure. He is handsome wealthy amateur swimmer and has been competing the channel for two years. He swims a combersome over-arm stroke and is very slow.

Just before he left Egypt this season he was received in audience by King Fuad, who asked him to do his utmost to swim the channel for the glory of Egyptian sport. Michel is a former French distance champion and one of the channel regulars. He trained with Bill Burgess before Bill succeeded in swimming the channel in 1911. Michel is powerful but slow.

MEXICO RELIGIOUS MEDIATION HOPES GONE IS REPORTED

Arouse Spirit Of Unity
Among Church
Members

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10.—With all hope of mediation gone in the face of a decisive government victory to date in Mexico's religious controversy, Catholics here are now concentrating on opposition to the religious laws through use of luxury boycott and the arousing of unity of religious spirit.

Hundreds of priests, positionists with the closing of the churches, have been sent to small towns and villages in the interior to preach the idea of boycott.

The appeal is being markedly heeded by the Indians, who are the most devout Catholics of the country.

In the cities church attendance is decreasing slightly, due, according to Catholics, to the fact that persons of the upper classes will not enter the churches where they declare those now in charge molest and insult them because of the boycott. They also charge the present guardians of the churches are sacrilegious.

"We realize the hopelessness of mediation efforts," one prominent Catholic told the United Press, "and are now placing our hopes on the boycott and the free elections which will come two years hence."

Bishop Pascual Diaz of Tabasco, meeting sixty Catholic women yesterday afternoon, heard their plans for continuing the boycott.

Late in the day interest was caused by a pamphlet which appeared on the streets signed by the hitherto unknown "Catholic Union of the Federal District" bitterly attacking the C. R. O. M., or federal district division of the Confederation of Labor, for its efforts against the church.

It declared that those who failed to aid the boycott were "traitors to God, religion, and country," and called the boycott as the "salvation of Catholicism."

"Reprint this sheet in every possible," the pamphlet concluded, "intensify its circulation, post it in public places, propagandize it by word of mouth. Boycott—boycott—boycott—the arm that causes enemies of Catholics to tremble—boycott is the salvation of Catholicism."

ATTEMPTS TO SWIM CHANNEL HALTED

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 10.—George Michel of France and Ishak Helmy, of Egypt, today abandoned their efforts to swim the English channel.

The swimmers abandoned at 10:30 a. m. today after thirteen hours in the water in which they had progressed twelve miles from the French coast. They had accomplished less than a mile for every hour in the water and had been able to swim slightly more than half way across the channel in only an hour and a half less than Gertrude Ederle required to complete the entire swim.

Today was Helmy's fourth failure. He is handsome wealthy amateur swimmer and has been competing the channel for two years. He swims a combersome over-arm stroke and is very slow.

Just before he left Egypt this season he was received in audience by King Fuad, who asked him to do his utmost to swim the channel for the glory of Egyptian sport. Michel is a former French distance champion and one of the channel regulars. He trained with Bill Burgess before Bill succeeded in swimming the channel in 1911. Michel is powerful but slow.

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES WATCHED BY NATION IN PRIMARY RACES; FOUR STATES VOTE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Two Democratic presidential possibilities, prohibition, and the Ku Klux Klan were subjects of sectional balloting in three of the four state primaries held today.

Gov. Vic Donahey and former Senator Atlee Pomerene are running side by side for Democratic nominations in Ohio. Their names are being mentioned prominently with many other Democrats as 1928 possibilities. Donahey, a dry whose record has been published by Anti-Saloon League, is seeking the nomination for Governor of the State, known as the "Mother of President," where he has served two terms.

Pomerene, wet, was seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination, against Judge Florence Allen, dry, is a close race.

In the primaries of the day, Alabama, Arkansas, and Nebraska bear less national significance. In Alabama there are half a dozen candidates fighting for the seat of Senator Underwood.

Election Night Party

The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican invite the public to their election party Tuesday night.

Returns from Ohio's primary contest, both from Greene County and from all over Ohio, will be furnished with greatest possible speed.

Telephone communication with headquarters of the United Press in Columbus will keep the office of these newspapers informed on returns from the state at large. Messenger service from the board of elections room in the Court House direct to the office, will bring returns from Greene County to the offices of these newspapers as fast as they are received.

These returns will be listed by precincts on two tally sheets and a running total kept. With this information available, bulletins will be thrown on a screen in front of the Gazette Bldg., S. Detroit St., constantly from the time the first returns come in. These bulletins will give progress of the vote count from this county and from all over the state.

These newspapers believe this the best possible manner in which to furnish election news and it outstrips the service given at other primary elections.

In line with their policy to constantly furnish the public the best possible service, these papers invite the public to vantage points on Detroit St., where the screen can be seen.

CLEMENCEAU LETTER ANSWER TO PLEAS OF FRIENDS HE REPORTS

Statesman Says America Loves France—Admits
Reporter at Sea Side Home Where He Spends Declining Years

(The United Press herewith presents an exclusive interview with Georges Clemenceau, wartime leader of France, which the veteran statesman tells why he emerged from long retirement to address a sensational letter regarding war debts to President Coolidge. Clemenceau told A. L. Bradford of the United Press that he did not expect any reply from Mr. Coolidge, explaining that the letter was not meant to elicit a reply.)

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent.
ST. VINCENT, SURE, JARD, France, Aug. 10.—An old man turning eighty-five years sat in the parlor of his shanty-like, one story house on the seashore and told why he came out of retirement, which had engulfed him since he won the war for France.

"I'll tell you the truth about that letter," he said. "I know the Americans. If ever there was a people that loved France, it was the American people. They make mistakes like all of us, but you have done such splendid things that we give America that final praise that they are such chic people."

"But it has been so evident recently that sentiment was changing, that I decided to write the letter three or four days ago, because scores of people appealed to me to do so. Throughout this year I have seen some of my American friends but also recently I have received scores and scores of letters asking me to do something."

"Without the usual criticism or threats these writers who appealed to me said they realized that I definitely had retired from politics, but that I should break my silence for once."

"So I decided to write the letter. I did not want to make it political or financial argument. I wanted to separate the question from banks. I have nothing against the bankers but their commission is a question of business just as measurement is a question for the trade of tailors. I have said many other things, but I wanted to say only what I did say. I was frank. I also spoke of England and how she spoke Germany against France. Now it is the same thing regarding debts. We hear that America is coming to be greatly disliked in England and now it is France. That is bad."

The old man was talking in a room which overlooked the sea. His health was marvelous to see. His face was sunburned and his eyes obviously registered the things around him with his clearest vision.

Clemenceau emphasized that he expected no reply to his letter and that it was not designed to bring a reply. Questioned regarding his own idea for solving the debt problems, he said:

"I won't say what thoughts I have. I have my ideas but for me to announce them would be to put myself before the government."

Referring to certain passages in the letter and to the present policy regarding debts and foreign loans, the "Tiger" said that such loans, would be the "end of France."

"I did not ask to remain in power," Clemenceau said relative to his removal from office, "because I was very tired. For eighteen months after leaving office I did not look at a newspaper. Since then I have been working on my books. You can say that the past five years have been the most beautiful of my life."

As was noted, Clemenceau saw the local priest walking up the road.

"Here comes the Cure to try to convert me. He won't succeed," said the Tiger, and that was his good bye.

ACCUSED DOUBLE SLAYER GIVES BOND

STUEBENVILLE, O., Aug. 10.—John Cook, charged with the murders of Nettie and Robert Herron last March was at liberty today on $10,000 bond.

A jury acquitted Cook of the murder of the woman, but he was held on a second indictment. Prosecutor Roy N. Merrynar protested the release of Cook, but was overruled.

Martineau is not a wet but relies for his following upon dries opposed to the league candidate. In Nebraska congressional races of little national significance are under way.

GENERAL MOTORS IS STILL ACTIVE

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The stock General Motors continued to supply excitement in the stock market today, a bullish raid sending it downward precipitately.

Under mid-day selling the stock sagged twenty-four points to 298 a share.

U. S. Steel likewise slumped, selling off two and one-half points at 152 1/4.

JAILER PREVENTS BREAK FROM PRISON

STUEBENVILLE, O., Aug. 10.—Jailer Charles Kilmartin, prevented a wholesale jail delivery of prisoners in the Jefferson County Jail during the night.

Hearing footsteps in the corridor Kilmartin rushed to the bull pen and caught three prisoners as they were about to crawl through a hole in the wall. Pieces of bars, sawed from the cell, had been used to dig the opening.

Sixty prisoners, including three held on murder charges, were in the jail at the time.

NORWOOD AUTOISTS VICTIMS OF CRASH NEAR TOLEDO, OHIO

Two Die In Hospitals
After Collision
Tuesday

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 10.—Three residents of Norwood were killed when their automobile and a truck collided near here today. The dead:

George Hanahan and Clarence Hall, both 24.

Arthur Rummell, 19, of Norwood, was injured.

The trio was enroute to Flint, Mich.

Hall was dead when the wreck was discovered. Hanahan died enroute to a hospital here. Rummell died today after being brought to a local hospital. Other members of the party continued on their way to Flint, after the accident.

GIRL REVEALS TALE LIKE FICTION WHEN GRANTED DIVORCE

Lived In Indian Harem
And Sold To Prince,
She Says

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 10.—The story of an American university co-ed who according to her sworn testimony, married into a family of native rulers in India, was kept in a harem and offered for sale to an Indian Prince, was revealed here when Betty Kurlow, was granted a divorce on July 27 from Abani Kumar Bose, by Judge Joseph Sabath.

In obtaining her divorce Miss Kurlow testified she met Bose while both were students at Northwestern University. His strange Oriental personality fascinated her and she married him. Despite his promise to stay in America, she testified, he persuaded her to go to India for a short visit. There after hardships and illness in a jungle home, where she trembled at the roar of tigers and hiss of snakes, her adventures culminated in an unsuccessful attempt at suicide.

"MA" MUST BATTLE MOODY IN "RUN OFF"

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 10.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and Dan Moody, young attorney general, were ready "to go down the line from the Red River to the Rio Grande" in a second fight for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Officially sanctioned by the Democratic state executive committee meeting in a stormy session here yesterday, Moody and Mrs. Ferguson will campaign for the "run off" primary August 28.

Renewed activities in the Ferguson-Moody contest originated yesterday when the Ferguson constituency challenged the right of Moody's candidacy on grounds that the red-haired attorney had violated state election laws in acceptance of campaign funds from legislative supporters.

SUBMARINE SINKS AND FIVE DROWNED

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Mystery surrounds the disaster to the submarine H-29, which sank in Davenport Harbor with a loss of five lives this afternoon. Full details probably will not be available for some time.

The submarine was undergoing tilting tests and was returning from a short cruise. After being docked she suddenly heeled over and sank. Several of the men aboard were able to release themselves and escaped.

The victims were civilian dockworkers except one chief engineer artificer. Sixteen men were aboard at the time of the accident. A leak in the hull is believed to have been the cause.

That submarine was one of the enormous type built during the World War.

FORMER DRY AGENT HELD IN SHOOTING

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio, Aug. 10.—A shooting, said to have been the culmination of a grudge between two men, took place on Main St. today, when a bullet, alleged to have been fired by Charles Dale, former Constable and dry officer, narrowly missed Police Chief Howard.

The bullet also whizzed by Jesse Camp, manager of the Gallipolis office of the Ohio Gas and Fuel Company. Howard is alleged to have struck Dale with his fist before the shot was fired. The sheriff seized Dale. He was placed in jail, but later released on bond.

CORNERSTONE OF TEMPLE ANNEX WILL BE LAID HERE AUGUST 25

Cornerstone laying exercises for the new $35,000 annex to the recently acquired Masonic Temple in the Dodds Addition, now under construction, will be held Wednesday afternoon, August 25, amid elaborate ceremonies, it is announced.

Final details of the program being arranged will be mapped out at a meeting of a committee appointed for the task Tuesday night. The committee is composed of Dr. A. C. Messenger, chairman; A. E. Faulkner, Lewis F. Clark and J. H. Whitmer.

ARKANSAS PRIMARY RATES CONTEST FOR GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 10.—Arkansas voters were deciding at the polls today for the first time since the reconstruction, whether an Arkansas governor will fail to secure a second term endorsement.

Governor Thomas J. Terral, seeking a second term, is opposed in the primary election by Judge John E. Martineau, who, as candidate for the Democratic primary nomination in 1924 finished third in a field of six. Not since post-Civil War days has a governor in this state been defeated for a second term.

The gubernatorial campaign has revolved about administration of the state textbook commission and Terral's prison policy.

Senator Thaddeus H. Carraway's bid for renomination seems to have struck no decided opposition. Seven representatives are also seeking to return to Washington.

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture

Symptoms of a disease that have continued for a prolonged period indicate either a defect in bodily functioning, or else certain depleting habits which produce these symptoms as a means of ridding the body of various foreign elements that accumulate because of the habits referred to. Considering these conditions, therefore, the treatment of various chronic diseases, regardless of what symptoms may be manifested, are to a large extent similar for, as already said, they all depend on one thing—a particular change in the bodily condition and that is an increase in the strength of the vital organism.

Naturally we give our attention, first of all, to accelerating the activities of these organs that carry from the body the poisons or foreign elements which are the usual cause of the symptoms of the disease. In other words, if one has in some part of the body an inflammation, a soreness or pain that has become chronic in character, we might say that in practically every case this pain or soreness or inflammation is the physiological manifestation of a depleted or impure condition of the life-building fluid—the blood. Though local applications or local treatment will be of aid in helping one to rid himself of symptoms of this character (this sort of treatment is of minor importance compared to the efforts that can be made to right the wrong at its very foundation; in other words, if the blood is at fault the life stream must be purified and made to contain those elements that not only build superior strength, but carry away the effete matter that naturally accumulates in the tissues of the body.

For instance, the average physician will tell you that rheumatism is caused by uric acid. It is immaterial whether or not this is the particular nature of the impurity that is the cause of the difficulty; we know that there is something wrong with the blood stream. Therefore, whether you are treating chronic rheumatism or any other chronic manifestation the general treatment is to a large extent similar. For the entire object to be kept in view is to increase the vitality of the entire organism.

WOLVES INCREASE IN SOVIET RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—The Soviet Government is preparing to offer all possible co-operation and encouragement to hunters who are trying to exterminate wolves. Wolves have been increasing in numbers because of the neglect of hunting during the stormy years of the Revolution, and today their numbers in Russia proper, excluding the affiliated Ukrainian, White Russian and Transcaucasian Republics, is estimated at a hundred thousand.

During winter months wolves sometimes invade peasant villages and small towns and cases have been reported in which they attacked trains and were only beaten off after a desperate battle. Approximately a million cattle are killed by wolves every year and the losses which they inflict on the peasant population are reckoned in tens of millions of rubles. Cases of attacks on human beings are also not infrequent.

MAYOR'S COURT

SIX INTOXICATED

Six persons were hauled before Mayor John W. Prugh on charges of intoxication Monday morning and fined when they pleaded guilty. Those arrested and fined were Oscar Devilbliss, $25 and costs, and C. E. Mason, B. T. Porter, Fred Baker, J. R. Palmer, and William Burby, each $10 and costs.

The arrests were made by Patrolmen Ed Craig, Fred Jones, George Robinson, George Spencer and A. F. Sanders.

SPEEDERS FINED

John Samuels and Paul Tate, arrested over the week-end by Motorcycle Policemen Peter Shagin, charged with speeding, were each fined $1 and costs by Mayor Prugh.

CRIME NOT WORTH THE PRICE DECLARES WILMINGTON BOY FROM MISSOURI PEN

What price crime? Everett Adams, 17, Wilmington, O., now serving a life sentence for the murder of Aden R. Clawson, Lodi, N. Y., school teacher, near La Monte, Mo., August 1, 1925, has come to the conclusion that crime is not worth the price of atonement.

The youth now assigned to the pants factory behind the grim, gray walls of the Missouri State Penitentiary, produces an average of seventy pair of garments daily on a "tom-cat" sewing machine.

"It doesn't pay—this crime," declared Adams, "Those who think it smart and that they can get away with it are badly mistaken. It's not worth the price. After they serve their time they realize the only way to live is to keep straight. I know what it is.

"Before I came here I didn't think much about it, but I've changed my mind now.

"These nine months in prison have seemed like nine years to me.

"Most of my evenings are spent reading books from the prison library, and I entertain myself that way. I get quite a bit of mail from my folks and my old school chums back home, too, which helps a lot."

Adams wants to get transferred to the state reformatory for boys at Boonville until he is twenty-one years of age.

It was tragic circumstance that induced Adams to leave a home in Wilmington a year ago, on a trip that ended in a penitentiary.

The youth shot and killed Clawson for his auto after the teacher had given the boy a "lift". The instructor's body was found in a ravine twelve days later. Two days before Adams had been arrested at Garden City, Kan., and confessed the crime. The boy had left home because of trouble with an ag irl and headed west on foot to "forget it all."

Returned to the Sedalia County Jail, he was tried in October and sentenced to life imprisonment.

MORE THAN HUNDRED ARE ALREADY VOTED

One hundred and fourteen absent voters' ballots had been cast for the primary election when the books were officially closed Saturday at midnight, according to a check made by Earl Short, clerk of the board of elections.

This number exceeds the preliminary vote cast two years ago by thirty-nine votes, Mr. Short declares.

Upon this great increase the clerk bases a prediction that a much heavier primary vote will be cast Tuesday than was cast two years ago.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF MAN AT ELYRIA

ELYRIA, O., Aug. 10.—Mystery surrounds the murder of an unidentified man whose body was found last night hidden in a group of bushes along the Black River.

All marks of identification had been removed from his clothing. He was believed killed by a blow on the side of the head. He had been dead some time.

Police believe the body was brought to Elyria in an automobile and concealed.

FORMER BELLBROOK GIRL WEDS WEDNESDAY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Funnell, 1056 Pine St., Cincinnati, last Wednesday, when the only daughter of Mrs. Funnell, Miss Dorothy M. Cotterman, became the bride of William B. Ellis. Seventy guests were received to witness the vows by Mr. and Mrs. Funnell.

The bride's procession was led by Miss Helen Louise Douthett of Richmond Road, a cousin of the bride. Miss Douthett wore a dress of pink georgette, with a pink silk rosebud band in her hair.

Then entered the bridesmaid, Miss Catherine Layton, who wore orchid georgette and carried a bouquet of orchids and roses. The bride entered with her step father, Mr. Funnell, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was white silk georgette with flared skirt. Her huge bouquet was bride's roses and valley lilies. Her veil, caught with orange blossoms, touched the hem of her dress.

The bridal party was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Herman Loeffler, the officiating clergyman, the Rev. R. O. McClure, Trinity M. E. Church, Cincinnati.

The single ring ceremony was solemnized in the bower arranged in front of the mantle, of the living room, a huge wedding bell of white suspended from the ceiling.

The house decorations combined pink and white roses and many ferns. Dinner was served in the dining room, the bride's table seating twelve. The large wedding cake formed the centerpiece, a large bouquet centering the other tables. Little Mary Jones also cousin of the bride, was one of the guests at the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis left on a motor trip to Lookout Mountain and other Southern points.

XENIA GIRL TO BE MARRIED IN LONDON, O.

Much interest is being evidenced in the approaching marriage of Miss Dorothy Hester, this city, and Mr. Owen Evans, Springfield, O., which will take place next Saturday.

The ceremony will be performed at the Trinity Church, London, O., where Mr. and Mrs. William Hester, the bride's parents, reside. The nuptials will be quietly performed, with Miss Mary Hester, the bride's sister, the only attendant.

Miss Hester will continue her work for a time after her marriage, as stenographer at the Hoover and Allison Co., offices, this city. She enjoys wide popularity in this city and her many friends are receiving the announcement with felicitations. Mr. Evans is employed at the Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield.

LEVALLEY FAMILY TO HOLD ANNUAL REUNION.

The eighth annual reunion of the LeValley family will be held at the Greene County Fair grounds, August 15. All members of the family are urged to be present. The officers of the family organization are planning an interesting day.

Seven score and three years ago, April 28, 1777, the family ancestor John J. LeValley (as Anglicized) an intense patriot and intrepid explorer, left the sunny slope of France, with a number of kindred spirits, in search of fortune, adventure and ended with a patriotic zeal for the new country, America. He came as a companion to that revered French patriot, Lafayette, and offered his life and services on the altar of American independence.

An interesting story of the LeValley family since the days of the arrival of the early ancestor on American soil has been compiled by Mr. W. A. Paxson and will be a feature of the annual reunion.

DINNER PARTY.

A dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sanders, E. Second St., Monday, was greatly enjoyed. Among the guests of the day were Mr. and Mrs. P. L. LeValley and Earl LeValley, Mayville, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. S. P. LeValley and daughter, Catherine, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. D. H. LeValley, Paintersville; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph LeValley, and daughter, Mona, Dayton; Mrs. Cora LeValley, New Jasper; Mr. and Mrs. A. Ritchie, Xenia; Mrs. D. A. Smith, Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. Odie Baughn, New Jasper.

FAMILY REUNION AT COUNTRY HOME

Thirty relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Grieve on the Jamestown Pike, Sunday, for a family reunion. A beautiful dinner was served at noon on the beautiful lawn. Persons were present from Columbus, O., New Petersburg, O., Blanchester, O., Atlanta, Ga., Dayton and Xenia.

LODGES PICNIC

100,000 Mexicans March to Shrine in Church Defense

As a protest against the action of the Mexican government in its war against the Catholic church approximately 100,000 persons recently trudged to the Basilica of Guadalupe, five miles from the city of Guadalupe, and there worshiped at the shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe. The photo shows the church on the hilltop.

ALABAMA PRIMARY ISSUE CENTERS ON HIGHWAY PROGRAM

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 10.—Alabama voters went to the polls today to elect a United States senator, a governor, a full complement of state officers and members of both houses of the legislature, since the Democratic nomination in this state is equivalent to election.

The campaign has been one of the hardest battles in the state's history with a proposed bond issue of $75,000,000 for highway improvement as the chief issue. In the governorship battle the voters will have a wide latitude of choice and can vote their convictions on bonds to any amount.

Chas. S. McDowell, Jr., of Eufrasia, the present lieutenant governor, is advocating the $75,000,000 bond issue to be financed by a three-cent per gallon tax on gasoline in addition to the two cents already levied.

McDowell has the support of the Brandon administration, but has been bitterly fought by opponents of the gasoline tax.

A. H. Carmichael, of Tusculum, for years prominent in Alabama legislatures, is advocating a $25,000,000 bond issue.

Col. Bill Graves of Montgomery has announced that he favors a $25,000,000 bond issue, while A. G. Patterson of Albany-Decatur is against any bond issue at all.

Patterson declared that it is impossible to raise $25,000,000 a year without issuing any bonds.

The road bonds have been the only real issue injected into the campaign as all candidates have pledged themselves to abolish convict leasing immediately upon being elected.

The senate contest has centered around the question of money. This has been the major point raised with Hugo L. Black, Birmingham attorney, on one side, and John H. Bankhead of Jasper, ex-Governor Thomas E. Kilby of Anniston and L. B. Musgrove, of Jasper on the other.

Kilby and Bankhead are reputed to be millionaires, while Black has represented himself as a poor man.

Judge J. J. Mayfield, of Montgomery, fifth entrant in the race has conducted a conservative and unobtrusive campaign and has not been involved in the battles of other candidates.

NEWARK CHANGES OPERATION OF CARS

NEWARK, O., Aug. 10.—Street cars and auto-bus operated by the Newark Street Railway Company and its assigns, will cease operating at midnight. Passenger transportation will be in the hands of an incorporated bus company, known as the City Bus Company.

After the war cost of operation rose and the company was permitted to raise the fare from five to six cents.

WELLSVILLE, O., Aug. 10.—A police dog, brought back from Germany by Fred Wilk, today saved the lives of his master's family and several guests when fire destroyed the Riverside Hotel and an adjoining three-story candy factory and damaged a restaurant and a dry goods store. Loss is estimated at $125,000.

The dog, detecting smoke pouring from the candy factory into the hotel lobby, began to bark and run through the halls of the building until Wilk and other guests in the fifty-room structure awakened. A "pumper" fire truck, brought here yesterday for a demonstration saved the entire block from destruction when the blaze passed beyond control of the regular city apparatus.

WILLIAM FERGUSON SUCCEUMS MONDAY William Ferguson, 71, prominent retired farmer, passed away at his home, 31 W. Third St., Monday evening at 7:20 o'clock. Death was the result of a gradual decline in health, induced by a stroke of paralysis suffered eight years ago in March.

Mr. Ferguson was born April 22, 1855, between Clifton and Xenia, on the farm occupied by his brother, A. L. Ferguson. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson moved to Yellow Springs twelve years ago, when Mr. Ferguson retired from farming and came to Xenia six years ago. Mr. Ferguson's parents were the late William and Nancy Lackey Ferguson.

Besides his widow, three children survive: Ralph Ferguson, near Clifton; Mrs. Roy McClellan, Cincinnati Pike; and W. H. Ferguson, Los Angeles, Cal. One daughter, A. L. Ferguson and one sister, Miss Elsie Ferguson, both of the home farm, also survive.

The deceased was a member of the Second U. P. Church. He was an elder in the congregation a number of years. Funeral services will be held at the church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment in Woodland Cemetery.

THE UNION SERVICES of the East End churches were held Sunday evening at the Christian Church at which time Rev. Howe of the Third Baptist Church delivered a powerful sermon to a very appreciative audience.

Rev. Loe, of Wilberforce University, occupied the pulpit at Zion Baptist Church, Sunday, during the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Dooley.

The Basket-meeting of the Baptist Church at Coatsville, O., Sunday was a grand success. Ideal weather added much to the pleasure and spiritual feast of the day. Rev. A. L. Dooley, pastor of Zion Baptist Church, Xenia, O., the speaker of the day delivered two very soul-stirring sermons. Rev. J. H. Harris of this city is pastor of the church.

The first A. M. E. Church, corner of Main and Columbus Sts., is engaged in a series of open-air evangelistic meetings, under a large tent on the lawn of the church. Rev. Gore, pastor of one of the largest Baptist churches in St. Louis arrived Monday morning to take charge of the preaching. Rev. Gore is an interesting speaker. He conducted a very successful revival for the same church here last winter and his return is heartily welcomed.

Rev. I. N. Patterson, Jr., and family, of the Pittsburgh District of the A. M. E. Church, have been the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Patterson, of E. Church St., for several days. He is accompanied by his wife and children. Rev. Patterson is one of the many home boys and a graduate of East High School that is making a high mark in the ministerial field.

An interesting baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Ward, E. Market St., last week.

Mrs. A. C. Hawkins in company with Mrs. Carrie Jones, and the latter's house guests, Miss Hall and Mrs. Darnell, of Paris, Ky., were visitors in Dayton, O., last week.

Mrs. Stanley Greene, E. Main St., has as her house guest, Mrs. Moore, of Memphis, Tenn.

LACKING ON ONE POINT

Uncle Sam has developed into the greatest old uncle in the world. He is fond of giving free and excellent advice to his nieces and nephews on almost every phase of their struggle to make a livelihood, and occasionally on other matters. He can and will tell you whether to plant your farm to corn and potatoes or to put it into wheat, flax or other crop. He can and will tell you what to do if the seed peas do not blossom as freely as they should. When the little pigs do not thrive he will give advice that is valuable and that will help them over their troubles.

He will give you advice on the kind of diet suitable for hot weather, and tell you where are the best places to go for your summer outing, including advice on camping, fishing and hunting. He will explain how to build a campfire which will not spread, and will tell you how to find your way into and out of the woods.

Moreover he will give you advice about how to spend or save your money and how to lay aside a portion in order that you may be independent in old age. He will give you advice about securing an education and about the different vocations available for you to adopt when you are fitted to begin your life work. In fact, he seems to be ready and willing to give advice on any and everything which might come up in a man's life from the day he is born until his death, but a faltering old bachelor, who had about decided to change his status, discovered there was one matter on which this generous old Uncle is close-mouthed, and that is on the subject of marriage. This man wrote his congress man for literature and government information of the problems of a benedict, asking as to the size of family the government which this timorous bachelor felt he ought to know before he ventured on the matrimonial sea, but never a word of advice could he get. Not a congressman, not a bureau chief, could send him a line of authoritative matter which had been worked out in anticipation of his questions. Getting married is one of the most important events in any man's life, yet Uncle Sam has left that matter entirely out of his calculations.

KEEPING UP A NEIGHBORHOOD

Theoretically a man who owns property ought to have the right to do what he wants to with his own land. Yet practically the man who does just as he wishes with his own property may create serious damage to his neighbors. For instance, if a man who owns a home in a pretty residence neighborhood should put up an ugly chicken coop in a conspicuous position, the neighborhood is to some extent damaged. Real estate promoters often establish restrictions on the use of land which those purchasing consent to for the benefit of the neighborhood.

Some people may object to certain restrictions, on the ground that they interfere too far with private rights. Yet these conditions may make the land more attractive to others because they seem to make the property more secure against deterioration. The bulk of the residence property in American towns has probably been sold without such conditions. An unrestricted neighborhood must rely on the good sense of its residents to keep their property in good shape.

People ought to realize that if they make any addition that is inappropriate or ugly, or if they put up structures unsuited to the location, a damage is done not merely to their neighbors, but to themselves as well. The inexpensively built town may show so much refinement in its homes and the care given to them, that it looks more pleasing and livable than one in which the average cost of the dwellings was twice as much.

Today's Talk

OLD FAITHFUL

In Yellowstone Park they have many wonderful spectacles, but none more remarkable than that world famous geyser called Old Faithful.

I have never asked but I believe they called it by this name because at regular intervals of an hour, day and night, it spurts its boiling clouds of steam high into the air. The crowds gather around at these regular times and know that they will not be disappointed. What a name—Old Faithful!

Is there a gift in this world higher to be prized than a friend whom you may call Old Faithful? Just to have somebody to whom you may go and know that you will find him the same as when last you saw or talked with him. Think of the mothers of the world. They are the Old Faithfuls of mankind.

Sometimes I wonder if dependability isn't one of the lost arts. And then someone comes along to prove that the art still lives!

Today in Yellowstone Park in Wyoming, every hour, Old Faithful is still performing—while you work, while you sleep, while you play. And some day, if you have never seen this marvel of Nature do its stunt, I hope you may. It is worth a trip to this far away wonder centre of Nature.

"Remember," said my friend recently, "I shall always be your friend, whether in adversity or in the happy hours of success and triumph."

I shall always be inspired by the lesson of Old Faithful, that giant of geysers.

SMALL PROFIT MAY BE EARNED BY FAIR

A small profit is all the Greene County Agricultural Society hopes to realize, following the eighty-seventh annual county fair which closed last Friday, according to fair officials.

Officials say the exact financial condition will not be known until after all expenses are paid. There was a surplus in the fair fund last year.

Despite the best of weather this year, the attendance is believed to have decreased and this along with some repairs made on the fair grounds cut down the income.

Decreased attendance is attributed in part to the extremely hot weather which prevailed all three days.

Members of the fair board re-elected to serve a three-year term by voters eligible through holding family tickets are: C. M. Austin, Bellbrook; W. C. Smith, Spring Valley; Thomas Paulkner, Xenia. Other members hold over, six of which will now serve two years and four one year.

1906-TWENTY YEARS AGO-1926

Fully 12,000 people attended the fair the big day, Thursday. Miss Maud Ebright, of New York City, arrived in Xenia to spend two weeks. She comes from Lakewood.

Mr. Stephen Hamilton, manager of the Haney candy store, left for an outing of several weeks at Minneapolis and Minnetonka Lake.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES

Bride Reader: "Can all fruit and vegetable mixtures be canned in the stove oven?"

Answer: No, only those which are strong in acid—such as tomato catsup, fruit butters and orange marmalade. To can fruit butters, heat the fruit and sugar on top of the range before placing in the oven. Have your Fahrenheit oven thermometer register between 250 to 275 degrees throughout the hour of oven cooking.

Mrs. L.: "Last year I canned many foods by the old Cold Pack Method. Most of them shrank in the process, leaving the jar only three-fourths full!"

Answer: This year use the new Hot Pack Method, which calls for precooking of food to be canned, and you will find that all the shrinkage has taken place before the fruits or vegetables are put in the jars. Write to Washington, D. C., to the United States Department of Agriculture, and ask to have the free Farmer's Bulletin No. 1471 sent to you. This bulletin is entitled "Canning Fruits and Vegetables at Home" and has been recently published—thereby containing the up-to-the-minute discoveries which U. S. Government canning experts maintain are an improvement over all past canning methods. If space permitted I would gladly quote from it—over cover to cover! But this column is limited and each housewife should send to Washington for the bulletin herself, and hang it in her kitchen for easy reference.

Home Nurse: "A member of our family has become a chronic invalid and must have medicines at intervals throughout the day, many of which are of an acid flavor. I have great trouble in keeping these medicine glasses separate from our ordinary drinking glasses. Will it do any harm if they are mixed up?"

Answer: I would not let them become mixed. Why not put an elastic band around the medicine glasses? That is what I do in my own home, when one of my family has to take medicine.

"TACK" PLAYS ROLE OF GOOD SAMARITAN

Cliff W. Lattimer, former National League player, serving a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary, yesterday played the Good Samaritan to an aged woman, who had come to the institution to see her son.

When informed that her son recently had been transferred to the London prison farm, she was worried considerably, as most all her money had been used in coming this far.

Lattimer learned of her predicament and solved her problem.

"I could afford it better than she could," was his only remark after he had given her the necessary money for the fare.—Ohio State Journal.

INCREASE IN WILD GAME RECENTLY IS REPORTED IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Wild game in the United States is increasing and by 1960 there will be the abundance of game that was available to the sportsmen of 1860, in the opinion of H. P. Sheldon, chief game warden of the United States.

"The American sportsman is winning his fight to conserve and perpetuate wild game," Sheldon said. "We are well forward in a new advance, which will be marked by a constant increase in the numbers of our valuable species of fish, birds and animals."

Never before have the sportsmen and conservationists been so strongly and effectively organized and never before have the official agencies of conservation found such large sums of money at their disposal for advancing their work."

Sheldon said that game and fish regulations are being religiously observed in every section of the country. Destruction of game that went on a century past has now been solidly checked.

"There still remains, however, pressing need for anti-pollution laws, the training and employment of an adequate force of game protectors, provisions for expanding areas for the care and feeding of our increasing game stock, the reduction of vermin, study and control of disease and the troublesome problem of harmonizing the rights of landowners with the recreations of sportsmen who own no shooting or fishing preserve."

The Theatre

Thirty years ago the first crude motion pictures came into being. They jumped and flickered, and every few moments the film broke. Acting was crude—very crude. Intelligent direction did not exist. Settings had an almost unbelievable bareness and inadequacy. The comedy was tragic, the tragedy was laughable.

chromism, every change in the action of the unfolding drama, every emotion of the characters.

The Vitaphone is the name that has been given this newest child of the union of art and science. Overnight, it leaped the stage of babyhood, and is a full-grown prodigy, promising immediately to work sweeping change in the motion picture industry. The most inaccessible town, people of which never attended a Marion Talley concert or a Philharmonic program can both see and hear the greatest musicians. Future pictures accompanied by the world's greatest symphony organizations can be put into hundreds or thousands of cities and towns simultaneously.

Robert Benchley, dramatic critic of Life, whose favorite indoor sport has been taking his digs at the movies, has forgotten his previous remarks and is getting down to work. His very first scenario will be written in collaboration with Raymond Griffith and will bear the title, "Be Yourself." Kay, of course, will be the star in the resultant picture.

ON Greene County History

WORKHOUSE

The workhouse was owned jointly by the city and county until abolished.

It was erected in 1882-83 at a cost of $8,000, the city and county sharing equally in the expense of its construction.

It was maintained by the two, although since its beginning, arrangements were later made with nine counties whereby they were allowed to place certain of their prisoners in the workhouse and pay the city of Xenia and Greene County a fixed rate for their maintenance.

These counties were: Shelby, Miami, Clark, Ross, Fayette, Clinton, Warren, Champaign and Logan. The institution was opened November 12, 1883, for the reception of prisoners. The first superintendent was Major Geo. A. Barnes. The succession of superintendents was then as follows, and the dates given are when the officials took office; Major George A. Barnes, November 12, 1883; Norman S. Tiffany, April 4, 1887; John Eyer, August 13, 1887; Elmer Todd, Feb. 15, 1888; John Brewer, July 1, 1892; Moses R. Brannum, October 1, 1897; Joshua Yeo, February 16, 1897; Rankin Grieves, November 1, 1900; James B. Marshall, November 1, 1901; David E. Crow, January 15, 1902.

Crow was the superintendent until the present form of city government was established January 1, 1918, and then the position was held by the city manager with Crow retained in the capacity of steward.

FRANCHISE GIVEN TRACTION COMPANY IS NOW EFFECTIVE

An ordinance passed by City Commission thirty days ago granting the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Railway Co. a twenty-year renewal of its franchise into the city, became effective and operative Sunday, August 8, as provided by law.

Officials of the company, which was recently reorganized under the name of The Dayton-Xenia Traction Co., complied with provisions of the ordinance Saturday in order to make the measure effective immediately.

The railway filed its approval of plans and specifications made a part of the ordinance regarding the plan to tear up the route on S. Detroit St. formerly covered by the city street car.

The company has also paid the city a lump sum of $10,000 with which to finance repair of the street. Dismantling of the line will begin immediately under direction of the city.

AUTO STOLEN

New Ford touring car, owned by Frank Jones, Dayton Ave., was stolen from the Jones garage early Sunday morning, it was reported to police. Thieves are thought to have hidden in the garage since no attempt to break the lock or enter the window was discovered.

An attempt was also made to enter the garage and steal the machine of Thomas Gilroy, across the street from the Jones home. Garage keys of a third Dayton Ave. resident were taken in an attempt to enter the building.

East Side - West Side

—OF— New York

By Jack O'Donnell

One of the quaint features of New York is the importance attached to reputations. There is a young artist in this town who has sold successfully in the galleries of a dozen other American cities. No New York gallery will handle his work.

"Go get a reputation" is the advice they give this young citizen. When he asks how one acquires a reputation except by doing good work the answer is a shrug of the shoulders. In a year or two his work will force itself into New York, and then New York will claim to have suddenly and miraculously "discovered" a new genius.

Most of the slang of New York, many of its songs, a great many of its dances and a generous portion of its thought come from outlying districts and when any or all of it is finally made an official part of Gotham life New York suddenly "discovers" something the rest of the country has known for months, or perhaps, years.

Again the setting of O'Henry's "Mammon and the Archer." Fifth Avenue blocked and jammed with traffic at high noon. Above Forty-second Street the cars rammed in like passengers in a subway coach. Much honking of horns. The traffic tower at Fifty-seventh Street showing a continuous red light, preventing north and south movement.

Buses diverted East over Forty-fourth Street and into a tighter jam. Other vehicles switched off the Avenue at Forty-eighth, two blocks below St. Patrick's Cathedral. Then a long and quite silent wait in Madison Avenue, buses and taxicabs alike reconciled to the delay, cause unknown. A cop improves the opportunity by soliciting motorists for field day tickets. Auto drivers relax from cursing and read their evening papers undisturbed.

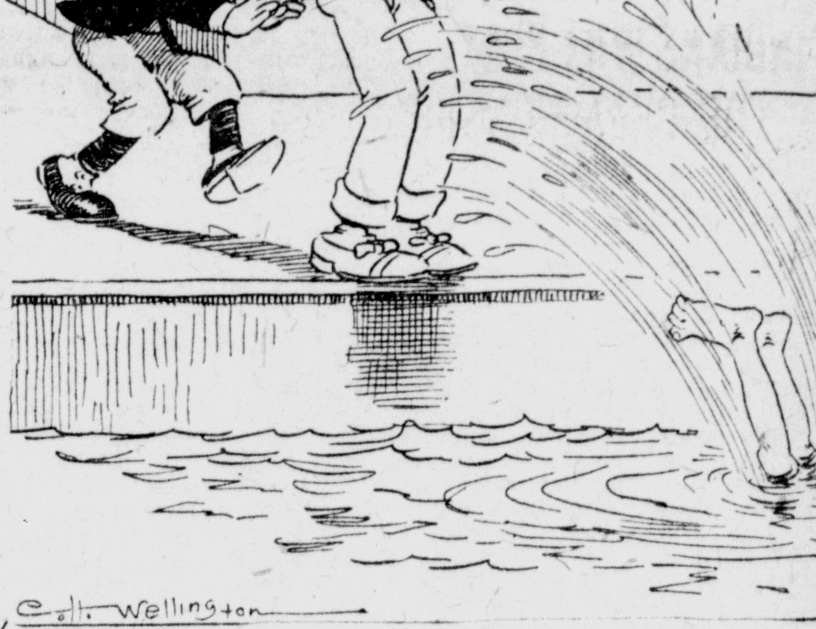

At 12:30, one taxi passenger bawling a trip from Washington Square, begun at 11:40.

Funny business, this writing game. I was talking to an associate editor of Collier's Weekly a few days ago and he told me that only one idea out of a hundred projected by amateur and professional writers hits the editor's bull's-eye. And ninety-five times out of a hundred the one that does hit comes from the professional writer—the writer who depends solely upon his writings for a living. But—and here's consolation for the man or woman west of the Hudson who is trying to break into the magazines—all of these professionals once were amateurs.

Here's more consolation: This associate editor told me of one woman whose article they had just accepted who rewrote her story six times. "It got better each time," he said. "Finally, it was a finished piece of work and we bought it."

As that old war-horse of the magazine game, William Slavens McNutt says, "It takes guts to write for the magazines," meaning it takes courage to stick to it until one arrives.

THE WORST IS YET TO COME

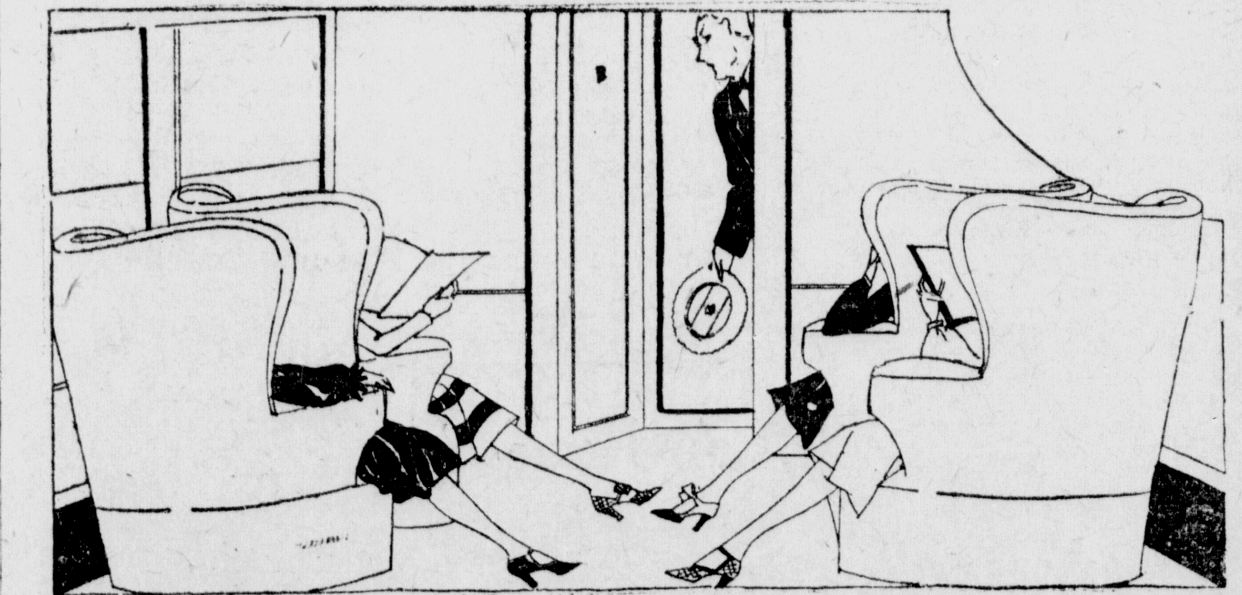

Modish Mitzi

MITZI CAUSES SOME EXCITEMENT By Jay-V. Jay

It is not the appearance of a megalomaniac that can cause any ripple of excitement with these young ladies. They are disposed for solid comfort. He may, of course, trip over their feet, but then their shoes are so good looking! One is a basket weave of silk cloth that gives a check effect, another is half blonde kid and half blonde snakeskin, a third is patent leather with a colored binding, the fourth is baby block alligator with a detached buckle!

The Goofer is looking for Mitzi and Mitzi is looking anywhere except where she will find him. The young ladies have found an interest in life and display a host of velvet with a crumpled crown, a high crowned grosgrain sailor and a square-crowned grosgrain with a wide band of contrasting color. Mitzi has aroused their interest by a light felt with an odd slash to the brim and a cape dress that is made of heavy weight but sheer crepe silk.

CHESS PLAYERS TO GATHER IN CHICAGO FOR ANNUAL MEET

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Scores of nationally and internationally known chess masters, as well as hundreds of other players and fans, will be in Chicago, August 21 for the opening of the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Western Chess Association at the Hotel La Salle. The gathering will last until September 2.

Secretary-treasurer Samuel D. Factor, of the association, has announced that invitations to participate in the national and sectional tournaments, in which the title of western champion and many valuable prizes are at stake, have already been accepted by numerous stars.

Among these are Frank J. Marshall, United States champion; Edward Lasker, former western champion; Samuel D. Factor, former western champion; Samuel Reshevsky, "the boy wonder"; Abraham Kupchick, present western champion; Carlos Torre, Mexican title holder; Geza Maroczy, Hungarian champion; Jackson Schowalter, former United States champion; A. J. Frick, Pacific Coast champion; Charles Jaffe, Lewis J. Isaacs, N. W. Banks and others.

JONES BEATS MARK MADE BY SWINDLER

Shooting against the mark of 479 points out of a possible 500, established a week ago by Perry Swindler, champion of the Xenia rifle championship, Walter Jones exceeded this mark by three, scoring 482 points over the varying ranges Saturday afternoon at Shawnee Park.

Peter Shagin, who claims to hold the marksmanship championship of the Xenia Police Department, also shot in improved style, making 452 points out of a possible 500, which bettered his previous record by forty-six.

Shagin is rapidly adapting himself to long ranges and hopes to beat the mark of both of his leading competitors with a little more practice.

Swindler is enjoying a two-week's vacation and was unable to shoot to better his own mark Saturday.

INDIANS WILL PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The Xenia Indians will engage the first independent team at Springfield Valley in what is announced to be the first of a two-game series for the independent baseball championship of Greene County next Sunday afternoon.

The second contest will be played at Cedarville as a feature of the Labor Day observance.

The Indians have been strengthened by the acquisition of two new infielders and a pitcher, Alexander, who holds a record of twenty-two strike outs in one game.

Local nine was scheduled to play the Troy All Stars last Sunday afternoon but wet grounds prevented the contest from being staged.

COMPANY L LEAVES WEDNESDAY ON CAMP TRAINING PERIOD

Company L, 147th Infantry, Ohio National Guard, will entrain on the Pennsylvania line at 8:34 a. m., Wednesday to take part in the annual summer field training period of the Seventy-fourth Infantry Brigade at Camp Perry, O., from August 11 to August 25, inclusive.

Captain Leroy V. Joan has issued orders instructing all members of the local guard unit to report at the Army on E. Main St., not later than 8 p. m. on the evening preceding the departure, Tuesday, August 10.

Field equipment will be issued to individuals, squad boxes will be packed and final preparations made to leave the following morning at the Tuesday assembly.

Assembly will be held that evening at 8 p. m. All members will be required to be present at this formation and remain overnight at the Army in previous years, the captain declares.

Information relative to the uniform to be worn enroute to the camp, equipment to be taken in squad boxes or carried in the individual pack, will be given at the meeting.

The captain reminds that no soldier is excused from attending the camp except upon authority secured through the office of the commandant and then only upon rare and exceptional circumstances.

The captain warns that the necessary disciplinary action will be taken against any member absent from formation Tuesday night, August 10.

COUNTRY CLUB TO PLAY MIDDLETOWN

With a season's record of two victories against one defeat, the match team of the Xenia Country Club will engage in a return inter-city golf match with the Middletown Country Club over the local nine-hole course Wednesday afternoon, August 11, according to a schedule arranged for the season.

Middletown is the only club to conquer Xenia this season, the lone defeat coming by a close margin in the first match of the year, June 30, at Middletown.

Since that defeat Xenia has emerged victorious by wide margins in matches with Washington C. H. and Wilmington.

Local golfers hope to avenge the early season reverse and at the same time maintain their record of two years standing of not losing a match on the Xenia links.

Hour set for the teams to tee off Wednesday has not been announced.

FANNING WITH ARRELL

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Amsterdam is planning to erect the most ornate plant that ever has been built for the comfort and convenience of Olympic athletes and spectators.

The United Press has been favored with a drawing of the stadium through the courtesy of G. van Rossum, general secretary of the Nederlandsch Olympisch Comité, which is to act as the host of the world's greatest athletes who will compete in the 1928 games.

Although the program and the dates have not been decided upon by the International Olympic Committee, the Holland officials have gone ahead with their financial arrangements and have funds sufficient to erect a plant they feel will be the best looking and the most comfortable that ever has been used for the Olympic games.

The drawing shows a most extensive and expansive layout and architectural style equalled only by the tiny stadium at Antwerp, which may have had some shortcomings but certainly lacked nothing in beauty.

Plans have been drawn for a huge stadium for the track and field games, a big pool for aquatic events, a field for polo and the equestrian games, a large field for cricket and football, a track for the cycling races, a large tennis plant and a village for the athletes. Near the plant is also a course for rowing and yachting.

In Paris the games were spread all over and all around the city but Amsterdam has decided upon having the entire program conducted practically under one roof, a great convenience alike to trainers, athletes and spectators.

The tennis plant is to be made very complete, with a center court surrounded by stands and including three courts and ten courts outside.

The completeness of the plant and the thoroughness of the plans probably will come as a surprise to some members of the international committee who wanted Holland to produce some cash in sight to guarantee that the games could be sponsored properly.

Los Angeles, two years ago, was offering all kinds of inducements to get the 1928 games such as paying traveling expenses of all foreign teams to and from Los Angeles. This offer, of course, appealed to some of the less wealthy foreign nations but complaint was made that it flavored of professionalism and that Holland deserved at least the courtesy of an attempt to organize the games.

"You don't know those Dutch people," a prominent member of the committee said. "They don't make much noise when they're doing things but they do them and do them right."

As far as advance arrangements are concerned, the Dutch surely plan to do it right and no doubt will do it.

Sour Stomach
"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, grassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

"Not Possible To Classify"

By Mack Sauer

A few jottings of the day by Samuel Pepps, jr.: By five o'clock up and did find, to my heart's content, my mouse trap snapped and a mouse caught, too; which will be good news for my wife, poor wretch, she being frightened to death, nearly, of them, so that she has gone to the country, hurra; hurra.

To see whether the lightning had done hurt to my house, and joyed to find it had not; yet the rain beat mightily upon my wife's fern, and I would have dumped it over the bank, so little is my care for flowers, but I durst not for fear of hurting her feelings. This morning away to see Bob Kingsbury, to buy a pair of socks and was talked into a swapper of new fashion, a silly thing which I will not wear, but which is all the rage these days.

Anon to the office where came a fellow with whom I went to school in Athens, and full of fun we were in recalling old memories of this and that, but in especial about fraternity initiations, which we will never forget as long as we live. A mighty crude poem about flappers came through the mails, it being of ridiculous phrasing and how it got into print is beyond my poor brain to fathom.

In the evening was called by a woman who told of how an article she found through a "Lost ad" in the-Gazette and of how she is full of praise for our classified page and means to send me a jug of cider for my terrible thirst, if she has to go afar to buy it, for which I am mighty thankful.

Read some fine words about Henry Ford and then to bed. And what a great fear I had for a good time, hearing a noise of talking in the house, so up to see, and it was my radio which I had forgotten to turn off. So lay long troubled about my coal bill and getting no vacation.

WISE

A fortune teller said to me,
"I'll read your palm for a small fee."
I know how much my fortune is
And it is no concern of his.

Remember the school you used to write and place in a hollow tree back of the schoolhouse for a little freckle faced girl in aingham dress. Some of those notes brought results. Gazette classified ads get results. Phone an ad tomorrow.

Goes to World's End to "Shoot" Sun To Get Long Range Weather Forecasts

In an effort to "shoot the sun" with the utmost accuracy and obtain data for long range weather forecasts, Dr. Charles G. Abbot has completed a 30,000-mile trip to Southwest Africa, where he established a station for his "sun gun" with which he is shown here. The primary object of Dr. Abbot's research is to measure the sun's radiation; any small variation in that radiation serves as the basis for an expected weather change.

Mexican Police Fire Into Crowd to Disperse Catholics; Prelate Hauled Before Justice for Failure to Heed Law

The seriousness of the church and state conflict in Mexico is made immediately apparent as the Calles edict and the boycott of the Catholic church go into force, almost simultaneously. Main photo shows crowd outside of Guadalupe Cathedral, Mexico City, into which the police fired before it would disperse. In the oval is seen the chief justice of Mexico city reprimanding the Catholic prelate Mier y Leran, right, for his refusal to obey the municipal orders in regard to church services.

The Gilded Rose

By May Christie

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

ROSILYN RIDGEWAY learns on her wedding day from idle gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an over-worked little drudge in her father's inn.

LANDIS RIDGEWAY, her husband, is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother.

FLORENCE RIDGEWAY, an aristocratic old lady, who saw poverty staring her in the face, and chose the easiest way out. Rosilyn loving her husband, knows that he is still in love with Lydia Harbrook, a beautiful, cold society girl who is bent on marrying.

SIEVE VAN VORST, a wealthy old roue, although she is really fond of Ridgeway. She is in Paris when the news reaches her of Landis' marriage and she hastens back to the United States. With her goes Rupert Briscoe, a dissipated man of the world, who has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and when the two reach New York, she suggests that they ask the young Ridgeways to dinner, and she and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby through an apparent misunderstanding Rosilyn and Briscoe will be left alone together, while she will be with her beloved Landis.

Landis, finding himself alone with Lydia falls under her spell once more. Some hours later that evening, Rosilyn who is bewildered to find herself spending the evening in the company of Rupert Briscoe, sees her husband dancing with Lydia—in his eyes a look of rapture. She believes he has seen her but is too rude—or ashamed—to speak. Briscoe asks her to go on to a nightclub, and in a mood of recklessness she consents.

In Paris Van Vorst, realizing the reason for Lydia's sudden trip to America and hungering for her love, decides to use Marietta, a dancer and sweet heart or Briscoe's in connection with a plan. These two arrange to come to New York where Marietta is to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer.

Long after Rosilyn's return home Lydia, by a clever ruse persuades Landis to take her for a taxi ride to Jersey. There in the early dawn speeding through the country side his old infatuation asserts itself and he gathers the girl in his arms.

Landis returns from Jersey leaves Lydia and upon finding his wife's door locked decides to put up at his club. Early the next morning he receives a phone call from Lydia.

At about the same time Rosilyn awakes, finds that Landis is missing, and greets his mother who has come for a chat. The latter intimates that the girl had better not allow her son too much rope.

Mrs. Ridgeway leaves while Rosilyn makes elaborate preparation to meet Landis and select furnishings for their home. She takes special pains with her clothes realizing that she must compete with the fair Lydia.

Landis phones, breaking his appointment for lunch, but while eating alone downstairs in the dining room Rosilyn sees Briscoe appear on the scene. He hurries over to her table.

A TEMPTING ORCHID

"I also heard that you are catching a train early this afternoon," the newcomer went on, pleasantly. "I've brought my own car along, and I can run up to the station, if you'll permit me."

Rosilyn colored. What would Landis say to that? If he had seen them both last night—but of course Mr. Briscoe had explained matters. —wouldn't he think this second meeting, following so abruptly on the heels of yesterday, a trifle odd?

"Does—does my husband—know you intended coming here?"

Briscoe gave his easy, well-bred laugh.

"I didn't say so. But, knowing Landis, he'll be glad you're being taken care of."

The manner of this was so possessive that the timid bride shrank farther into her shell. The free-and-easy ways of this smart set were quite beyond her comprehension.

She was comparatively silent throughout the brief meal. Her vis-à-vis chatted in his pleasant fashion.

He was companionable, was Rupert Briscoe. And today he gave no hint of ardour. Last night's parting words appeared to Rosilyn to have been but a figment of her own imagination.

As the moments slipped away, her reserve and shyness thawed a little. It was good to have a kindly, understanding friend. The little attentions of this eminently attractive man stood out in sharp antithesis to her bridegroom's casual conduct.

The meal over, he handed her into his car.

"Which station?"

"Pennsylvania, please."

He gave the chauffeur his instructions and got in beside the girl.

"We're going down to Landis' country place," she said. "I've never seen it. I believe it's quite lovely, though he hasn't afforded to live there for years and years." Then she bit her lip over the tactlessness of the last remark. How ill-bred he would think her and, fortune, hadn't some of his set—those hateful women at the wedding—referred to her as the "Gilded Rose?"

"You mean Royal Cliff? They have not been able to let it for four years. It needed too much doing up I understand."

"You've been there?" asked Rosilyn.

The man hesitated for an imperceptible moment.

"No." And then he added—

CUTICURA HEALS LARGE PIMPLES

Hard and Red. Scattered Over Face. Itched and Burned.

"Pimples were scattered all over my face and made it look badly. They were very hard, large and red, and after a few days would fester. The pimples itched and burned causing me to scratch at times."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using the sample I purchased one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, which completely healed me." (Signed) Miss Ruby Pinney, Bosworth, Mo.

Mexican Laborers Parade to Show Faith

As a demonstration of their support of the Government's steps against the church, 50,000 members of the national Mexican labor federation paraded in Mexico City. This shows a section of the demonstration.

"I've only known Landis in the last three years, in a manner of speaking. Charming fellow! And—with a meaning glance at the girl beside him—a very, very lucky one!"

She flushed again. Was he referring to her money? But of course he was, no matter how much he might camouflage his statement. Only too painfully had it been brought to her consciousness that—without her money—she was zero, and—even though a wealthy woman now—of very little count in her husband's life!

Not that he didn't treat her with the utmost courtesy. Not that he, in words, had ever actually slighted her.

But yet—! Rupert Briscoe lifted a little issue paper package from a small compartment of his car, undid the wrappings and drew out a magnificent specimen of a single orchid, with a spray of asparagus fern set all about it.

"I saw this in a street-florist's window and it intrigued me mightily," he remarked. "You'll wear it, won't you?"

Rosilyn drew back. Beautiful as was the flower, to the country girl there was something sinister in its strange exotic loveliness!

"I—I couldn't. It wouldn't—suit me."

Conscious of the ungraciousness of that, she was distressed. "What else could she say?"

"You are mistaken child!" For a moment, the caressing note was in the man's voice again. "I bought it because I had a fancy that it would bring out a hidden something in your personality—something that I can't define, but which glimmered for a moment once, or twice last night!" He gave his well-bred careless laugh, and yet, behind his eyes a purpose lay. "Don't think me mad! I often take such fancies, and I always make a point of humoring them."

Without touching it, Rosilyn regarded the exotic flower.

"You'll think me mad when I tell you that it frightens me! Oh, I know it's very beautiful and very rare and fearfully expensive, but—she shivered—"somehow it suggests, beneath its loveliness, death and decay and slimy swamps and creeping things!"

"Come, come!" He made as though to pin the orchid on her gown.

"It's perfectly true!" She smiled ruefully, at the same time drawing away from him. "They do grow in jungly swamps, don't they? And death lurks under their beauty. Even the petals of the flower, so waxen—are sort of corpse-like!"

The man beside her gave a hearty laugh.

"Such an imagination! Hadn't you an Irish mother?"

"Yes."

"Then that accounts for it! The bit about the 'creeping things' is good. You mean that I'm the serpent entering your Eden, don't you?"

She flushed to the roots of her hair at that. Her Eden? She had missed it, hadn't she? Landis and Lydia—

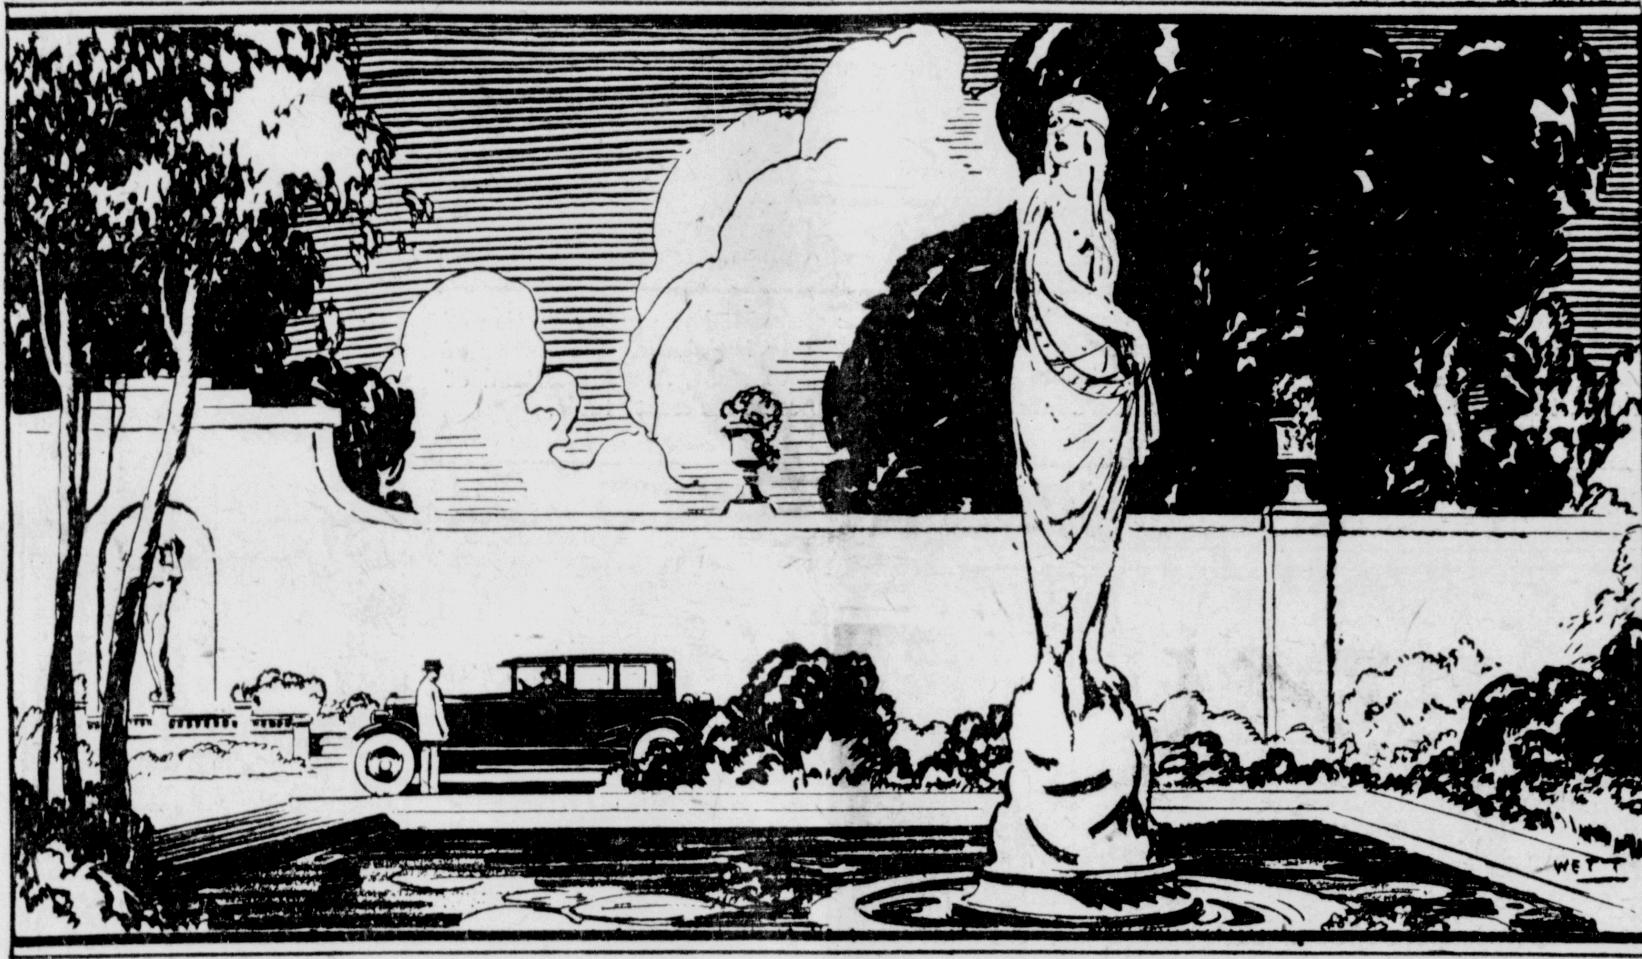

Her outward mood changed from superstition to forced gaiety and recklessness.

"Such a fuss about a flower! Of course I'll wear it." She took the orchid from his hand and pinned it coquettishly to her left shoulder, in the newest fashion. "Will I pass muster now?"

THREE KILLED AS TRUCK HITS AUTO BIG VOTE PREDICTED IN COUNTY

INDICATIONS HERE THAT PRIMARY VOTE MAY BREAK RECORDS

Fair Weather Helps Bal-
loting—Many Bal-
lot Early

Fair weather helped make conditions ideal for the primary Tuesday and the heaviest vote in years is predicted. In fact political observers would not be surprised to see the day set a record in the number of votes cast.

Voters began crowding the polling places within five minutes after the polls opened at 5:30 a. m. standard time. The voting continued steadily for several hours when the first lull set in. Tabulation of figures in several city precincts revealed the fact that the vote was much heavier than anticipated.

It was almost a record for early voting for any election in recent years. Reports at noon indicated that the late afternoon rush would be almost inconsequential.

A majority of the county and state offices went on the election block Tuesday. In some cases the campaign has been bitter in Greene County and this was expected to draw to the polls hundreds of persons who otherwise might not vote.

Women. It was noted particularly, appeared to be taking an unusual interest in the election and the fair weather was expected to permit farmers to leave their threshing and harvest early enough to cast their votes.

The fight in this county is confined to the Republican ranks, the Democrats furnishing no opposition in so far as the local ticket is concerned.

The Republican fight in Greene County is centered upon the principal issue of control of the Republican County Central Committee and the nomination for four offices, sheriff, treasurer, auditor and recorder.

The vote in Precinct 8 was 111 Republicans and seven Democrats at 1 o'clock.

NEBRASKA PRIMARY ELECTION IS BEING STAGED TUESDAY

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 10.—After one of the quietest primary campaigns in the state's history, Nebraska today went to the polls to nominate candidates of four political parties for governor.

Three of the parties—the Democratic, Progressive and LaFollette Independent—offered but one candidate for the gubernatorial nomination.

Republicans were offered their choice of nominating Governor Adam McMullen for another term or of choosing between Robert G. Ross, former livery stable proprietor of Lexington, Neb., and Fred G. Johnson, Governor McMullen was an overwhelming favorite.

The much discussed farm relief problem aroused little discussion during the campaign.

Charles W. Bryan, former governor and Democratic vice-presidential nominee at the 1924 election is the only candidate seeking the Democratic gubernatorial position. Because of his lack of opposition in the primary campaign, the brother of the late William Jennings Bryan has preserved his campaign "ammunition" for use after today.

All of Nebraska's representatives to Congress are seeking reelection.

A comparatively light vote was anticipated throughout the state, leaders of the two major parties said.

KENTUCKIAN HELD IN TRAIN WRECK

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 10.—William Shields, Cromwell Ky., is held at Troy, Ohio, pending investigation into the wrecking of a freight train on the Big Four Railroad, near Carlisle. Fifteen cars were derailed. No one was injured.

Authorities say Shields and two other persons whose identity has not been learned, were riding in an empty box car on the train.

In an attempt to close the door of the car, when the train was moving, authorities say, the men knocked the door off its hinges and it fell against a switch, throwing it open. The other men escaped.

COLD DINNERS HERE

ALLIANCE, Aug. 10.—Alliance was without gas yesterday due to a break in the mains leading to the city. Cold dinners were served in homes, hotels and restaurants.

Catholics Urge Luxury Boycott

DEBT NEGOTIATIONS RESUMED WITH GREECE BY TREASURY

Officials Resent French Attitude Toward Refunding—Believe France Given Every Consideration

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—While the French debt tangle was in the spot light today treasury officials prepared to resume negotiations with Greece for settlement of her $15,000,000 war obligations.

Government officials displayed resentment at France's attitude toward funding her debt. It was pointed out that under the Mellon-Berenger settlement the pre-armistice French obligation of $1,750,000,000 had been virtually cancelled and the agreement based on the post-armistice debt of $963,175,000.

Should France fail to ratify the debt pact, the United States is in a position to demand $407,000,000 from the debtor country in 1929.

After the war France bought $407,000,000 worth of war supplies from America and this commercial debt falls due in 1929. At present it is embodied in the debt agreement but should this pact not be ratified, the French would have to pay up when the note fell due instead of funding it with the other debts, over sixty-two years.

Ratification of the Franco-American debt agreement and a settlement with Greece would probably settle all of America's outstanding war credits. The treasury has wiped Armenia's obligation off its books as it is no longer a country since the United States does not recognize Russia, that nation's debt cannot be the subject of any negotiation.

Austria is expected to open negotiation for funding its debt within the next few years.

DRILL FIFTH SHAFT AFTER MEN TRAPPED IN KENTUCKY MINE

Rock Strata Halts
Fourth Shaft—Water
Hinders

SALEM, Ky., Aug. 10.—With the stubborn earth defying every effort of modern science, company officials began today to drill the fifth shaft to reach five men imprisoned for nearly 100 hours in the American Fluoropar and Zinc Company's mine near here.

When the fourth rescue shaft, pushed forward by hours of grueling labor, was within a few feet of the men, a strata of impenetrable rock was encountered which made further progress impossible.

Other rescue attempts have been frustrated by the seepage of water from an underground lake. Another disastrous impediment was breakdown of essential machinery. It has been sent to Memphis for repairs and has not yet returned.

Two hundred casualties were reported.

The radical groups, it was said, plan to present an ultimatum to the government demanding that leaders of the labor union groups be put to death, and threatening a general strike if the government does not comply.

WILL ASK CONGRESS TO CREATE UNIFIED PATROL FOR BORDER

Claims Federal Police Force Would Save Nation Money

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—General H. C. Smithers, chief coordinator of the United States will ask congress at its next session to enact legislation creating a unified border patrol, empowered to enforce all the laws of the nation in effect a federal police force.

Such a force would save taxpayers thousands of dollars annually and would be more efficient than the half a dozen or more services now operating along our international boundary lines.

General Smithers said today, "A single homogeneous border patrol under one head would meet all needs. Now labor department agents on the border look after aliens, prohibition officers watch for rum smugglers, agricultural department investigators bar diseased plants, and public health physicians examine emigrants and custom officials guard against smuggling and collect duties.

"Under the co-ordination, one person could do the work that it now takes five to perform."

General Smithers, pointed out that by eliminating duplication of border patrol activities a more uniform guard along the boundary lines could be maintained. Vast stretches of the borders now unguarded would be manned with federal policemen.

Under the co-ordination, one person could do the work that it now takes five to perform."

MEXICO RELIGIOUS MEDIATION HOPES GONE IS REPORTED

Arouse Spirit Of Unity
Among Church
Members

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10.—With all hope of mediation gone in the face of a decisive government victory to date in Mexico's religious controversy, Catholics here are now concentrating on opposition to the religious laws through use of luxury boycott and the arousing of unity of religious spirit.

Hundreds of priests, positionists with the closing of the churches, have been sent to small towns and villages in the interior to preach the idea of boycott.

The appeal is being markedly heeded by the Indians, who are the most devout Catholics of the country.

In the cities church attendance is decreasing slightly, due, according to Catholics, to the fact that persons of the upper classes will not enter the churches where they declare those now in charge molest and insult them because of the boycott. They also charge the present guardians of the churches are sacrilegious.

"We realize the hopelessness of mediation efforts," one prominent Catholic told the United Press, "and are now placing our hopes on the boycott and the free elections which will come in a few years hence."

Bishop Pascual Diaz of Tabasco, meeting sixty Catholic women yesterday afternoon, heard their plans for continuing the boycott.

Late in the day interest was caused by a pamphlet which appeared on the streets signed by the hitherto unknown "Catholic Union of the Federal District" bitterly attacking the C. R. O. M., or federal district division of the Confederation of Labor, for its efforts against the church.

It declared that those who failed to aid the boycott were "traitors to God, religion, and country," and hailed the boycott as the "salvation of Catholicism."

"Reprint this sheet in every possible," the pamphlet concluded, "intensify its circulation, post it in public places, propagandize it by word of mouth. Boycott—boycott—the arm that causes enemies of Catholics to tremble—boycott is the salvation of Catholicism."

Election Night Party

The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican invite the public to their election party Tuesday night. Returns from Ohio's primary contest, both from Greene County and from all over Ohio, will be furnished with greatest possible speed.

Telephone communication with headquarters of the United Press in Columbus will keep the office of these newspapers informed on returns from the state at large. Messenger service from the board of elections room in the Court House direct to the office, will bring returns from Greene County to the offices of these newspapers as fast as they are received.

These returns will be listed by precincts on two tally sheets and a running total kept. With this information available, bulletins will be thrown on a screen in front of the Gazette Bldg., S. Detroit St., constantly from the time the first returns come in. These bulletins will give progress of the vote count from this county and from all over the state.

These newspapers believe this the best possible manner in which to furnish election news and it outstrips the service given at other primary elections.

In line with their policy to constantly furnish the public the best possible service, these papers invite the public to vantage points on Detroit St., where the screen can be seen.

CLEMENCEAU LETTER ANSWER TO PLEAS OF FRIENDS HE REPORTS

Statesman Says America Loves France—Admits Reporter at Sea Side Home Where He Spends Declining Years

(The United Press herewith presents an exclusive interview with Georges Clemenceau, wartime leader of France, in which the veteran statesman tells why he emerged from long retirement to address a sensational letter regarding war debts to President Coolidge. Clemenceau told A. L. Bradford of the United Press that he did not expect any reply from Mr. Coolidge, explaining that the letter was not meant to elicit a reply.)

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent.
ST. VINCENT SUR JARD, France, Aug. 10.—An old man turning eighty-five years sat in the parlor of his shanty-like, one story house on the seashore and told why he came out of retirement, which had engulfed him since he won the war for France.

"I'll tell you the truth about that letter," he said. "I know the Americans. If ever there was a people that loved France, it was the American people. They make mistakes like all of us, but you have done such splendid things that we give America that final praise that they are such chic people."

"But it has been so evident recently that sentiment was changing that I decided to write the letter three or four days ago, because scores of people appealed to me to do so. Throughout this year I have seen some of my American friends but also recently I have received scores and scores of letters asking me to do something."

"Without the usual criticism or threats these writers who appealed to me said they realized that I definitely had retired from politics, but that I should break my silence for once."

"So I decided to write the letter. I did not want to make it political or financial argument. I wanted to separate the question from banks. I have nothing against the bankers, but their commission is a question of business just as measurement is a question for the trade of tailors. I have said many other things, but I wanted to say only what I did say. I was frank. I also spoke of England and how she played Germany against France. Now it is the same thing regarding debts. We hear that America is coming to be greatly disliked in England and now it is France. That is bad."

The old man was talking in a room which overlooks the sea. His health was marvelous to see. His face was sunburned and his eyes obviously registered the things around him with his clearest vision.

Clemenceau emphasized that he expected no reply to his letter and that it was not designed to bring a reply. Questioned regarding his own idea for solving the debt problems, he said:

"I won't say what thoughts I have. I have my ideas but for me to announce them would be to put myself before the government."

Referring to certain passages in the letter and to the present policy regarding debts and foreign loans, the "Tiger" said that such loans would be the "end of France."

"I did not ask to remain in power," Clemenceau said relative to his removal from office, "because I was very tired. For eighteen months after leaving office I did not look at a newspaper. Since then I have been working on my books. You can say that the past five years have been the most beautiful of my life."

As we parted, Clemenceau saw the local priest walking up the road.

"Here comes the Cure to try to convert me. He won't succeed," said the Tiger, and that was his good bye.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The stock market continued to supply excitement in the stock market today, a bullish raid sending it downward precipitately.

Under mid-day selling the stock sagged twenty-four points to 208 a share.

U. S. Steel likewise slumped, selling off two and one-half points at 152 1/4.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10.—Jailer Charles Kilmartin, prevented a wholesale jail delivery of prisoners in the Jefferson County Jail during the night.

Hearing footsteps in the corridor Kilmartin rushed to the bull pen and caught three prisoners as they were about to crawl through a hole in the wall. Pieces of bars, sawed from the cell, had been used to dig the opening.

Sixty prisoners, including three held on murder charges, were in the jail at the time.

Arthur Rummell, 19, of Norwood, was injured. The trio was enroute to Flint, Mich.

Hall was dead when the wreck was discovered. Hanahan died enroute to a hospital here. Rummell died today after being brought to a local hospital. Other members of the party continued on their way to Flint, after the accident.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 10.—The story of an American university co-ed who according to her sworn testimony, married into a family of native rulers in India, was kept in a Harem and offered for sale to an Indian Prince, was revealed here when Betty Kurlow, was granted a divorce on July 27 from Abani Kumar Bose, by Judge Joseph Sabatini.

In obtaining her divorce Miss Kurlow testified she met Bose while both were students at Northwestern University. His strange Oriental personality fascinated her and she married him. Despite his promise to stay in America, she testified, he persuaded her to go to India for a short visit. There after hardships and illness in a jungle home, where she trembled at the roar of tigers and hiss of snakes, her adventures culminated in an unsuccessful attempt at suicide.

CORNERSTONE OF TEMPLE ANNEX WILL BE LAID HERE AUGUST 25

Cornerstone laying exercises for the new $55,000 annex to the recently acquired Masonic Temple in the Dodds Addition, now under construction, will be held Wednesday afternoon, August 25, amid elaborate ceremonies, it is announced.

Final details of the program being arranged will be mapped out at a meeting of a committee appointed for the task Tuesday night. The committee is composed of Dr. A. C. Messenger, chairman; A. E. Faulkner, Lewis F. Clark and J. H. Whitmer.

ARKANSAS PRIMARY RATES CONTEST FOR GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 10.—Arkansas voters were deciding at the polls today for the first time since the reconstruction, whether to secure a second term endorsement.

Governor Thomas J. Terral, seeking a second term, is opposed in the primary election by Judge John E. Martineau, who as candidate for the Democratic primary nomination in 1924 finished third in a field of six. Not since post-Civil War days has a governor in this state been defeated for a second term.

The gubernatorial campaign has revolved about administration of the state textbook commission and Terral's prison policy.

Senator Thaddeus H. Carraway's bid for renomination seems to have struck no decided opposition. Seven representatives are also seeking to return to Washington.

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture
BERNARD MACFADDEN

Symptoms of a disease that have continued for a prolonged period indicates either a defect in bodily functioning, or else certain depleting habits which produce these symptoms as a means of ridding the body of various foreign elements that accumulate because of the habits referred to. Considering these conditions, therefore, the treatment of various chronic diseases, regardless of what symptoms may be manifested, are to a large extent similar for, as already said, they all depend on one thing—a particular change in the bodily condition and that is an increase in the strength of the vital organism.

Naturally we give our attention, first of all, to accelerating the activities of these organs that carry from the body the poisons or foreign elements which are the usual cause of the various chronic diseases. In other words, if one has in some part of the body an inflammation, a soreness or pain that has become chronic in character we might say that in practically every case this pain or soreness or inflammation is the physiological manifestation of a depleted or impure condition of the life-building fluid—the blood. Though local applications or local treatment will be of aid in helping one to rid himself of symptoms of this character this sort of treatment is of minor importance compared to the efforts that can be made to right the wrong at its very foundation; in other words, if the blood is at fault the life stream must be purified and made to contain those elements that not only build superior strength, but carry away the effete matter that naturally accumulates in the tissues of the body.

For instance, the average physician will tell you that rheumatism is caused by uric acid. It is immaterial whether or not this is the particular nature of the impurity that is the cause of the difficulty; we know that there is something wrong with the blood stream. Therefore, whether you are treating chronic rheumatism or any other chronic manifestation the general treatment is to a large extent similar. For the entire object to be kept in view is to increase the vitality of the entire organism.

A large number of Masons from surrounding cities is expected to attend the exercises.

It is announced that Earl Stewart, Ironton, O., most worshipful master of Grand Lodge of O. S. M., will be present and conduct the program. Other state officers of high Masonic rank, may also be present.

When the annex to the temple is completed, the formal dedication exercises will be held at a date to be decided upon later.

The annex is rearing itself out of the ground rapidly. The foundation has been completed and the brick laying work is now holding attention.

The exercises are expected to begin at 3:30 o'clock.

WOLVES INCREASE IN SOVIET RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—The Soviet Government is preparing to offer all possible co-operation and encouragement to hunters who are trying to exterminate wolves. Wolves have been increasing in numbers because of the neglect of hunting during the stormy years of the Revolution, and today their numbers in Russia proper, excluding the affiliated Ukrainian, White Russian and Transcaucasian Republics, is estimated at a hundred thousand.

During winter months wolves sometimes invade peasant villages and small towns and cases have been reported in which they attacked trains and were only beaten off after a desperate battle. Approximately a million cattle are killed by wolves every year and the losses which they inflict on the peasant population are reckoned in tens of millions of rubles. Cases of attacks on human beings are also not infrequent.

CRIME NOT WORTH THE PRICE DECLARES WILMINGTON BOY FROM MISSOURI PEN

What price crime?

Everett Adams, 17, Wilmington, O., now serving a life sentence for the murder of Aden R. Clawson, Lodi, N. Y., school teacher, near La Monte, Mo., August 1, 1925, has come to the conclusion that crime is not worth the price of atonement.

The youth now assigned to the pants factory behind the grim, gray walls of the Missouri State Penitentiary, produces an average of seventy pair of garments daily on a "tom-cat" sewing machine. "It doesn't pay—this crime," declared Adams. "Those who think it smart and that they can get away with it are badly mistaken. It's not worth the price. After they serve their time they realize the only way to live is to keep straight. I know what it is."

"Before I came here I didn't think much about it, but I've changed my mind now."

"These nine months in prison have seemed like nine years to me. Most of my evenings are spent reading books from the prison library, and I entertain myself that way. I get quite a bit of mail from my folks and my old school chums back home, too, which helps a lot."

Adams wants to get transferred to the state reformatory for boys at Booneville until he is twenty-one years of age.

It was tragic circumstance that induced Adams to leave a home in Wilmington a year ago, on a trip that ended in a penitentiary.

The youth shot and killed Clawson for his auto after the teacher had given the boy a "lift". The instructor's body was found in a ravine twelve days later. Two days before Adams had been arrested at Garden City, Kan., and confessed the crime. The boy had left home because of trouble with an girl and headed west on foot to "forget it all."

Returned to the Sedalia County Jail, he was tried in October and sentenced to life imprisonment.

MORE THAN HUNDRED ARE ALREADY VOTED

One hundred and fourteen absent voters' ballots had been cast for the primary election when the books were officially closed Saturday at midnight, according to a check made by Earl Short, clerk of the board of elections.

This number exceeds the primary vote cast two years ago by thirty-nine votes, Mr. Short declares.

Upon this great increase the clerk bases a prediction that a much heavier primary vote will be cast Tuesday than was cast two years ago.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF MAN AT ELYRIA

ELYRIA, O., Aug. 10.—Mystery surrounds the murder of an unidentified man whose body was found last night hidden in a group of bushes along the Black River.

All marks of identification had been removed from his clothing. He was believed killed by a blow on the side of the head. He had been dead some time.

Police believe the body was brought to Elyria in an automobile and concealed.

FORMER BELLBROOK GIRL WEDS WEDNESDAY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Funnell, 1056 Pine St., Cincinnati, last Wednesday, when the only daughter of Mrs. Funnell, Miss Dorothy M. Cotterman, became the bride of William B. Ellis. Seventy guests were received to witness the vows by Mr. and Mrs. Funnell.

The bridal procession was led by Miss Helen Louise Deuther of Richmond, a cousin of the bride. Miss Douthett wore a dress of pink georgette, with a pink silk rosebud band in her hair. Then entered the bridesmaid, Miss Catherine Layton, who wore orchid georgette and carried a bouquet of orchids and roses. The bride entered with her step father, Mr. Funnell, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was white silk georgette with flared skirt. Her huge bouquet was of the roses and valley lilies. Her veil, caught with orange blossoms, touched the hem of her dress.

The bridal party was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Herman Loeffler, the officiating clergyman, the Rev. R. O. McClure, Trinity M. E. Church, Cincinnati.

The single ring ceremony was solemnized in the bower arranged in front of the mantle, of the living room, a huge wedding veil of white suspended from the ceiling.

The house decorations combined pink and white roses and many ferns. Dinner was served in the dining room, the bride's table seating twelve. The large wedding cake formed the centerpiece, a large bouquet centering the other table. Little Mary Jones, also cousin of the bride, was one of the guests at the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis left on a motor trip to Lookout Mountain and other Southern points.

XENIA GIRL TO BE MARRIED IN LONDON, O.

Much interest is being evidenced in the approaching marriage of Miss Dorothy Hester, this city, and Mr. Owen Evans, Springfield, O., which will take place next Saturday.

The ceremony will be performed at the Trinity Church, London, O., where Mr. and Mrs. William Hester, the bride-to-be's parents, reside. The nuptials will be quietly performed, with Miss Mary Hester, the bride's sister, the only attendant.

Miss Hester will continue her work for a time after her marriage, as stenographer at the Hoover and Allison Co., offices, this city. She enjoys wide popularity in this city and her many friends are receiving the announcement with felicitations. Mr. Evans is employed at the Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield.

LEVALLEY FAMILY TO HOLD ANNUAL REUNION.

The eighth annual reunion of the LeValley family will be held at the Greene County Fair Grounds, August 15. Members of the family are urged to be present. The officers of the family organization are planning an interesting day.

Seven score and three years ago, April 28, 1777, the family patriarch John J. LeValley (as Anglicized) an intense patriot and intrepid explorer, left the sunny slope of France, with a number of kindred spirits, in search of fortune, adventure and ended with a patriotic zeal for the new country, America. He came as a companion to that renowned French patriot, Lafayette, and offered his life and services on the altar of American independence. An interesting story of the LeValley family since the days of the arrival of the early ancestor on American soil has been compiled by Mr. W. A. Paxson and will be a feature of the annual reunion.

DINNER PARTY.

A dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sanders, E. Second St., Monday, was greatly enjoyed. Among the guests of the day were, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. LeValley and Earl LeValley, Mayville, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. S. P. LeValley and daughter, Catherine, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. D. H. LeValley, Paintersville; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph LeValley, and daughter, Mona, Dayton; Mrs. Cora LeValley, New Jasper; Mr. and Mrs. Al Ritchie, Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Smith, Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Baughn, New Jasper.

100,000 Mexicans March to Shrine in Church Defense

As a protest against the action of the Mexican government in its war against the Catholic church approximately 100,000 persons recently trudged to the Basilica of Guadalupe, five miles from the city of Guadalupe, and there worshiped at the shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe. The photo shows the church on the hilltop.

ALABAMA PRIMARY ISSUE CENTERS ON HIGHWAY PROGRAM

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 10.—

Alabama voters went to the polls today to elect a United States senator, a governor, a full complement of state officers and members of both houses of the legislature, since the Democratic nomination in this state is equivalent to election.

The campaign has been one of the hardest battles in the state's history with a proposed bond issue of $75,000,000 for highway improvement as the chief issue.

In the governorship battle the voters will have a wide latitude of choice and can vote their convictions on bonds to any amount. Chas. S. McDowell, Jr., of Edgemoor, the present lieutenant governor, is advocating the $75,000,000 bond issue to be financed by a three-cent per gallon tax on gasoline in addition to the two cents already levied.

McDowell has the support of the Brandon administration, but has been bitterly fought by opponents of the gasoline tax. A. H. Carmichael, of Tusculum, for years prominent in Alabama legislatures, is advocating a $25,000,000 bond issue.

Col. Bibb Graves of Montgomery has announced that he favors a $25,000,000 bond issue, while A. G. Patterson of Albany-Decatur is against any bond issue at all. Patterson declared that it is impossible to raise $8,000,000 a year without issuing any bonds.

The road bonds have been the only real issue injected into the campaign as all candidates have pledged themselves to abolish convict leasing immediately upon being elected.

The same contest has centered around the question of money. This has been the major point raised with Hugo L. Black, Birmingham attorney, on one side and John H. Bankhead of Jasper, ex-Governor Thomas E. Kilby of Anniston and L. B. Musgrove, Jasper on the other. Musgrove, Kilby and Bankhead are reputed to be millionaires, while Black has represented himself as a poor man.

Judge J. J. Mayfield, of Montgomery, fifth entrant in the race has conducted a conservative and unobtrusive campaign and has not been involved in the battles of other candidates.

NEWARK CHANGES OPERATION OF CARS

NEWARK, O., Aug. 10.—Street

WILLIAM FERGUSON SUCCEUMS MONDAY

William Ferguson, 71, prominent retired farmer, passed away at his home, 31 W. Third St., Monday evening at 7:20 o'clock. Death was the result of a gradual decline in health, induced by a stroke of paralysis suffered eight years ago in March.

Mr. Ferguson was born April 22, 1855 between Clifton and Xenia, on the farm occupied by his brother, L. P. Ferguson. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson moved to Yellow Springs twelve years ago, when Mr. Ferguson retired from farming and came to Xenia six years ago. Mr. Ferguson's parents were the late William and Nancy Lackey Ferguson.

Besides his widow, three children survive: Ralph Ferguson, near Clifton; Mrs. Roy McClellan, Cincinnati Pike; and W. H. Ferguson, Los Angeles, Cal. One brother, A. L. Ferguson and one sister, Miss Elvie Ferguson, both of the home farm, also survive.

The deceased was a member of the Second U. P. Church. He was an elder in the congregation a number of years. Funeral services will be held at the church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment in Woodland Cemetery.

EAST END NEWS

TEL. 91-R

The union services of the East End churches were held Sunday evening at the Christian Church at which time Rev. Howe of the Third Baptist Church delivered a powerful sermon to a very appreciative audience.

Rev. Lee, of Wilberforce University, occupied the pulpit at Zion Baptist Church, Sunday, during the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Dooley.

The Basket-making of the Baptist Church at Coatsville, O., Sunday was a grand success. Ideal weather added much to the pleasure and spiritual feast of the day. Rev. A. L. Dooley, pastor of Zion Baptist Church, Xenia, O., the speaker of the day delivered two very soul-stirring sermons. Rev. J. H. Harris of this city is pastor of the church.

The first A. M. E. Church, corner of Main and Columbus Sts., is engaged in a series of open-air evangelistic meetings, under a large tent on the lawn of the church. Rev. Gore, pastor of one of the largest Baptist churches in St. Louis arrived Monday morning to take charge of the preaching. Rev. Gore is an interesting speaker. He conducted a very successful revival for the same church here last winter and his return is heartily welcomed.

Rev. I. N. Patterson, Jr., and family, of the Pittsburgh District of the A. M. E. Church, have been the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Patterson, of E. Church St., for several days. He is accompanied by his wife and children. Rev. Patterson is one of the many home boys and a graduate of East High School that is making a high mark in the ministerial field.

An interesting baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marjorie Ward, E. Market St., last week.

Mrs. A. C. Hawkins in company with Mrs. Carrie Jones, and the latter's house guests, Miss Hall and Mrs. Darnell, of Paris, Ky., were visitors in Dayton, O., last week.

Mrs. Stanley Greene, E. Main St., has as her house guest, Mrs. Moore, of Memphis, Tenn.

LACKING ON ONE POINT

Uncle Sam has developed into the greatest old uncle in the world. He is fond of giving free and excellent advice to his nieces and nephews on almost every phase of their struggle to make a livelihood, and occasionally on other matters. He can and will tell you whether to plant your farm to corn and potatoes or to put it into wheat, flax or other crop. He can and will tell you what to do if the seed peas do not blossom as freely as they should. When the little pigs do not thrive he will give advice that is valuable and that will help them over their troubles.

He will give you advice on the kind of diet suitable for hot weather, and tell you where are the best places to go for your summer outing, including advice on camping, fishing and hunting. He will explain how to build a campfire which will not spread, and will tell you how to find your way into and out of the woods.

Moreover he will give you advice about how to spend or save your money and how to lay aside a portion in order that you may be independent in old age. He will give you advice about securing an education and about the different vocations available for you to adopt when you are fitted to begin your life work. In fact, he seems to be ready and willing to give advice on any and everything which might come up in a man's life from the day he is born until his death, but a faltering old bachelor, who had about decided to change his status, discovered there was one matter on which this generous old Uncle is close-mouthed, and that is on the subject of marriage. This man wrote his congressman for literature and government information of the problems of a benedict, asking as to the size of family the government expected him to have, and many other intimate problems which this timorous bachelor felt he ought to know before he ventured on the matrimonial sea, but never a word of advice could he get. Not a congressman, not a bureau chief, could send him a line of authoritative matter which had been worked out in anticipation of his questions. Getting married is one of the most important events in any man's life, yet Uncle Sam has left that matter entirely out of his calculations.

KEEPING UP A NEIGHBORHOOD

Theoretically a man who owns property ought to have the right to do what he wants to with his own land. Yet practically the man who does just as he wishes with his own property may create serious damage to his neighbors. For instance, if a man who owns a home in a pretty residence neighborhood should put up an ugly chicken coop in a conspicuous position, the neighborhood is to some extent damaged. Real estate promoters often establish restrictions on the use of land which those purchasing consent to for the benefit of the neighborhood.

Some people may object to certain restrictions, on the ground that they interfere too far with private rights. Yet these conditions may make the land more attractive to others because they seem to make the property more secure against deterioration. The bulk of the residence property in American towns has probably been sold without such conditions. An unrestricted neighborhood must rely on the good sense of its residents to keep their property in good shape.

People ought to realize that if they make any addition that is inappropriate or ugly, or if they put up structures unsuited to the location, a damage is done not merely to their neighbors, but to themselves as well. The inexpensively built town may show so much refinement in its homes and the care given to them, that it looks more pleasing and livable than one in which the average cost of the dwellings was twice as much.

OLD FAITHFUL

In Yellowstone Park they have many wonderful spectacles, but none more remarkable than that world famous geyser called Old Faithful.

I have never asked but I believe they called it by this name because at regular intervals of an hour, day and night, it spurts its boiling clouds of steam high into the air. The crowds gather around at these regular times and know that they will not be disappointed. What a name—Old Faithful!

Is there a gift in this world higher to be prized than a friend whom you may call Old Faithful? Just to have somebody to whom you may go and know that you will find him the same as when last you saw or talked with him.

Think of the mothers of the world. They are the Old Faithfuls of mankind.

Sometimes I wonder if dependability isn't one of the lost arts. And then someone comes along to prove that the art still lives!

Today in Yellowstone Park in Wyoming, every hour, Old Faithful is still performing—while you work, while you sleep, while you play. And some day, if you have never seen this marvel of Nature do its stunt, I hope you may. It is worth a trip to this far away wonder center of Nature.

"Remember," said my friend recently, "I shall always be your friend, whether in adversity or in the happy hours of success and triumph."

I shall always be inspired by the lesson of Old Faithful, that giant of geysers.

SMALL PROFIT MAY BE EARNED BY FAIR

A small profit is all the Greene County Agricultural Society hopes to realize, following the eighty-seventh annual county fair which closed last Friday, according to fair officials.

Officials say the exact financial condition will not be known until after all expenses are paid. There was a surplus in the fair fund last year.

Despite the best of weather this year, the attendance is believed to have decreased and this along with some repairs made on the fair grounds cut down the income.

Decreased attendance is attributed in part to the extremely hot weather which prevailed all three days.

Members of the fair board re-elected to serve a three-year term by voters eligible through holding family tickets are: C. M. Austin, Bellbrook; W. C. Smith, Springfield; Thomas Paulkner, Xenia. Other members hold over, six of which will now serve two years and four one year.

1906-TWENTY YEARS AGO-1926

Fully 12,000 people attended the fair the big day, Thursday. Miss Maud Ebricht, of New York City, arrived in Xenia to spend two weeks. She comes from Lakewood.

Mr. Stephen Hamilton, manager of the Hane candy store, left for an outing of several weeks at Minneapolis and Minnetonka Lake. The excursion train over the Pennsylvania to Atlantic City carried twenty-one passengers out of Xenia.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES

Bride Reader: "Can all fruit and vegetable mixtures be canned in the stove oven?"

Answer: No, only those which are strong in acid—such as tomato catsups, fruit butters and orange marmalade. To can fruit butters, heat the fruit and sugar on top of the range before placing in the oven. Have your Fahrenheit oven thermometer register between 250 to 275 degrees throughout the hour of oven cooking.

Mrs. L.: "Last year I canned many foods by the old Cold Pack Method. Most of them shrank in the process, leaving the jar only three-fourths full."

Answer: This year use the new Hot Pack Method, which calls for precooking of food to be canned, and you will find that all the shrinkage has taken place before the fruits or vegetables are put in the jars. Write to Washington, D. C., to the United States Department of Agriculture, and ask to have the free Farmer's Bulletin No. 1471 sent to you. This bulletin is entitled "Canning Fruits and Vegetables at Home" and has been recently published—thereby containing the up-to-the-minute discoveries which U. S. Government canning experts maintain are an improvement over all past canning methods. If space permitted I would gladly quote from it—from cover to cover! But this column is limited and each housewife should send to Washington for the bulletin herself, and hang it in her kitchen for easy reference.

Home Nurse: "A member of our family has become a chronic invalid and must have medicines at intervals throughout the day, many of which are of an acid flavor. I have great trouble in keeping these medicine glasses separate from our ordinary drinking glasses. Will it do any harm if they are mixed up?"

Answer: I would not let them become mixed. Why not put an elastic band around the medicine glasses? That is what I do in my own home, when one of my family has to take medicine. Tomorrow—Ice Cream Without Cream.

"TACK" PLAYS ROLE OF GOOD SAMARITAN

Chief W. Lattimer, former National League player, serving a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary, yesterday played the Good Samaritan to an aged woman, who had come to the institution to see her son.

When informed that her son recently had been transferred to the London prison farm, she was worried considerably, as most all her money had been used in coming this far.

Lattimer learned of her predicament and solved her problem.

"I could afford it better than she could," was his only remark after he had given her the necessary money for the fare.—Ohio State Journal.

INCREASE IN WILD GAME RECENTLY IS REPORTED IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Wild game in the United States is increasing and by 1960 there will be the abundance of game that was available to the sportsmen of 1860, in the opinion of H. P. Sheldon, chief game warden of the United States.

"The American sportsman is winning his fight to conserve and perpetuate wild game," Sheldon said. "We are well forward in a new advance, which will be marked by a constant increase in the numbers of our valuable species of fish, birds and animals."

"Never before have the sportsmen and conservationists been so strongly and effectively organized and never before have the official agencies of conservation found such large sums of money at their disposal for advancing their work."

Sheldon said that game and fish regulations are being religiously observed in every section of the country. Destruction of game that went on a century past has now been solidly checked.

"There still remains, however, pressing need for anti-pollution laws, the training and employment of an adequate force of game protectors, provisions for expanding areas for the care and feeding of our increasing game stock, the reduction of vermin, study and control of disease and the troublesome problem of harmonizing the rights of landowners with the recreations of sportsmen who own no shooting or fishing preserve."

The Theatre

Thirty years ago the first crude motion pictures came into being. They jumped and flickered, and every few moments the film broke. Acting was crude—very crude. Intelligent direction did not exist. Settings had an almost unbelievable bareness and inadequacy. The comedy was tragic, the tragedy was laughable.

chromism, every change in the action of the unfolding drama, every emotion of the characters.

The Vitaphone is the name that has been given this newest child of the union of art and science. Overnight, it leaped the stage of babyhood, and is a full-grown prodigy, promising immediately to work sweeping change in the motion picture industry. The most inaccessible town, people of which never attended a Marion Talley concert or a Philharmonic program can both see and hear the greatest musicians. Future pictures accompanied by the world's greatest symphony organizations can be put into hundreds or thousands of cities and towns simultaneously.

Robert Benchley, dramatic critic of Life, whose favorite indoor sport has been taking fly digs at the movies, has forgotten his previous remarks and is getting down to work. His very first scenario will be written in collaboration with Raymond Griffith and will bear the title, "Be Yourself." Say, of course, will be the star in the resultant picture.

"Padlocked," the Rex Beach story, Xenia readers of the Cosmoopolitan followed with interest is being filmed by Allan Dwan Paramount. Doug. Fairbanks, Jr. will take the part of the "flaming youth" of the present day, and will have all the bad habits he avoids in real life.

At the same time, another embryo of science was struggling through its shell. Music was being recorded upon wax, and reproduced for the delectation of a wondering nation. The nasal voice of the announcer would give the name of the song and the singer. The moment of scratching and grinding and a faint thread of sound would trickle through the ears of the astonished listeners.

A few nights ago, New York saw and heard a union of these two grown-up twins of thirty years ago.

Beautiful women appeared on the screen, parted their lips and from the scintillating records, vacuum tubes and sound producers of their own voices. The screen likenesses of great violinists lifted their bows and as sensitive fingers fretted the strings, played with all the artistry and technique that have made them known around the globe. After the New York Philharmonic orchestra faded from the screen, it was replaced by the opening scenes of a John Barrymore film play, "Don Juan." But the music remained as an orchestral accompaniment to the pictures, interpreting it, in 32-

Greene County History

WORKHOUSE

The workhouse was owned jointly by the city and county until abolished.

It was erected in 1882-83 at a cost of $8,000, the city and county sharing equally in the expense of its construction.

It was maintained by the two, although since its beginning, arrangements were later made with nine counties whereby they were allowed to place certain of their prisoners in the workhouse and pay the city of Xenia and Greene County a fixed rate for their maintenance.

These counties were: Shelby, Miami, Clark, Ross, Fayette, Clinton, Warren, Champaign and Logan.

The institution was opened November 12, 1883, for the reception of prisoners. The first superintendent was Major Geo. A. Barnes. The succession of superintendents was then as follows, and includes given are when the officials took office; Major George A. Barnes, November 12, 1883; Norman S. Tiffany, April 4, 1887; John Eyer, August 13, 1887; Elmer Todd, Feb. 15, 1888; John Brewer, July 1, 1892; Moses R. Brannum, October 1, 1897; Joshua Yeo, February 16, 1897; Rankin Grievens, November 1, 1900; James B. Marshall, November 1, 1901; David E. Crow, January 15, 1902.

Crow was the superintendent until the present form of city government was established January 1, 1918, and then the position was held by the city manager with Crow retained in the capacity of steward.

FRANCHISE GIVEN TRACTION COMPANY IS NOW EFFECTIVE

An ordinance passed by City Commission thirty days ago granting the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Railway Co. a twenty-year renewal of its franchise into the city, became effective and operative Sunday, August 8, as provided by law.

Officials of the company, which was recently reorganized under the name of The Dayton-Xenia Traction Co., complied with provisions of the ordinance Saturday in order to make the measure effective immediately.

The railway filed its approval of plans and specifications made a part of the ordinance regarding the plan to tear up the route on S. Detroit St. formerly covered by the city street car.

The company has also paid the city a lump sum of $10,000, with which to finance repair of the street. Dismantling of the line will begin immediately under direction of the city.

AUTO STOLEN

New Ford touring car, owned by Frank Jones, Dayton Ave., was stolen from the Jones garage early Sunday morning. It was reported to police. Thieves are thought to have hidden in the garage since no attempt to break the lock or enter the window was discovered.

An attempt was also made to enter the garage and steal the machine of Thomas Gilroy, across the street from the Jones home. Garage keys of a third Dayton Ave. resident were taken in an attempt to enter the building.

East Side - West Side

—OF—
New York

By Jack O'Donnell

One of the quaint features of New York is the importance attached to reputations. There is a young artist in this town who has sold successfully in the galleries of a dozen other American cities. No New York gallery will handle his work.

"Go get a reputation" is the advice they give this young citizen. When he asks how one acquires a reputation except by doing good work the answer is a shrug of the shoulders. In a year or two his work will force itself into New York, and then New York will claim to have suddenly and miraculously "discovered" a new genius.

Most of the slang of New York, many of its songs, a great many of its dances and a generous portion of its thought come from outlying districts and when any or all of it is finally made an official part of Gotham life New York suddenly "discovers" something the rest of the country has known for months, or perhaps, years.

Again the setting of O'Henry's "Mammon and the Archer." Fifth Avenue blocked and jammed with traffic at high noon. Above Forty-second Street the cars rumbled in like passengers in a subway coach. Much honking of horns. The traffic tower at Fifty-seventh Street showing a continuous red light, preventing north and south movement.

Buses diverted East over Forty-fourth Street and into a tighter jam. Other vehicles switched off the Avenue at Forty-eighth, two blocks below St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Then a long and quite silent wait in Madison Avenue, buses and taxicabs alike reconciled to the delay, cause unknown. A cop improves the opportunity by soliciting motorists for field day tickets. Auto drivers relax from cursing and read their evening papers undisturbed.

At 12:30, one taxi passenger bewailing a trip from Washington Square, begun at 11:40 to a noon appointment with a $15-an-hour dentist. Much speculation as to the reasons for the blockade. Best opinion avers it must be a police parade. Fine time for a parade on the Avenue! A procession crosses at Fifty-seventh Street, headed east. The phalanx of mounted cops with banners flying seems to confirm the police parade theory. But soon a hearse rolls by, next some silk hats, pedestrians, and then a long line of motors. Ten minutes to pass a given point—ten minutes after that others of waiting. Finally the halted traffic crawls on, sorts itself out.

The patient reaches his dentist, an hour late. Others hurry to belated luncheon engagements, laden with excuses. A deputy police commissioner has received his last rites and is on his last trip across the river.

Funny business, this writing game. I was talking to an associate editor of Collier's Weekly a few days ago and he told me that only one idea out of a hundred projected by amateur and professional writers hits the editor's bull's-eye. And ninety-five times out of a hundred the one that does hit comes from the professional writer—the writer who depends solely upon his writings for living. But—and here's the consolation for the man or woman west of the Hudson who is trying to break into the magazines—all of these professionals once were amateurs.

Here's more consolation: This associate editor told me of one woman whose article they had just accepted who rewrote her story six times. "It got better each time," he said. "Finally, it was a finished piece of work and we bought it."

As that old war-horse of the magazine game, William Slavens McNutt says, "It takes guts to write for the magazines," meaning it takes courage to stick to it until one arrives.

MITZI CAUSES SOME EXCITEMENT

By Jay-V. Jay

It is not the appearance of a megalomaniac that can cause any ripple of excitement with these young ladies. They are disposed for solid comfort. He may, of course, trip over their feet, but then their shoes are so good looking! One is a basket weave of silk cloth that gives a check effect, another is half blonde kid and half blonde snakeskin, a third is patent leather with a colored binding, the fourth is baby block alligator with a detached buckle!

The Goofer is looking for Mitzi and Mitzi is looking anywhere except where she will find him. The young ladies have found an interest in life and display a hat of velvet with a crumpled crown, a high-crowned grosgrain sailor and a square-crowned grosgrain with a wide band of contrasting color. Mitzi has aroused their interest by a light felt with an odd slash to the brim and a cape dress that is made of heavy weight but sheer crepe silk.

BUD FRANK LEADS SLUGGERS AMONG REGULARS ON RESERVES

Xenia Reserves lowered their team batting average one point to .321 but boosted their string of consecutive victories to seven straight by trouncing Harshman in the first of a three-game series Sunday at Xenon. This win also brought the season's record to fourteen victories against four defeats. By collecting three hits, Bud Frank, first string catcher, assumed the individual lead in slugging, sending his average to the .500 mark. Conley went into second position with a mark of .433.

Second game of the Harshman series will be played next Sunday afternoon at Washington Park.

CHESSE PLAYERS TO GATHER IN CHICAGO FOR ANNUAL MEET

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Scores of nationally and internationally known chess masters, as well as hundreds of other players and fans, will be in Chicago, August 21 for the opening of the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Western Chess Association at the Hotel La Salle. The gathering will last until September 2.

Secretary-treasurer Samuel D. Factor, of the association, has announced that invitations to participate in the national and sectional tournaments, in which the title of western champion and many valuable prizes are at stake, have already been accepted by numerous stars.

Among these are Frank J. Marshall, United States champion; Edward Lasker, former western champion; Samuel D. Factor, former western champion; Samuel Reshevsky, "the boy wonder," Abraham Kupchik, present western champion; Charles Torre, Mexican title holder; Geza Maroczy, Hungarian champion; Jackson Schowalter, former United States champion; A. J. Frick, Pacific Coast champion; Charles Jaffe, Lewis J. Isaacs, N. W. Banks and others.

JONES BEATS MARK MADE BY SWINDLER

Shooting against the mark of 479 points out of a possible 500, established a week ago by Perry Swindler, claimant to the Xenia rifle championship, Walter Jones exceeded this mark by three, scoring 482 points out of the varying ranges Saturday afternoon at Shalices Park.

Peter Shagin, who claims to hold the marksmanship championship of the Xenia Police Department, also shot in improved style, making 452 points out of a possible 500, which betters his previous record by forty-six.

Shagin is rapidly adapting himself to long ranges and hopes to beat the mark of both of his leading competitors with a little more practice.

INDIANS WILL PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The Xenia Indians will engage the last independent team at Springfield Valley in what is announced to be the first of a two-game series for the independent baseball championship of Greene County next Sunday afternoon.

The second contest will be played at Cedarville as a feature of the Labor Day observance.

The Indians have been strengthened by the acquisition of two new infielders and a pitcher, Alexander, who holds a record of twenty-two strike outs in one game.

Local nine was scheduled to play the Troy All Stars last Sunday afternoon but wet grounds prevented the contest from being staged.

COMPANY L LEAVES WEDNESDAY ON CAMP TRAINING PERIOD

Company L, 147th Infantry, Ohio National Guard, will entrain on the Pennsylvania line at 8:34 a. m. Wednesday to take part in the annual summer field training period of the Seventy-fourth Infantry Brigade at Camp Perry, O., from August 11 to August 25, inclusive.

Captain Leroy V. John has issued orders instructing all members of the local guard unit to report at the Army on E. Main St., not later than 8 p. m. on the evening preceding the departure, Tuesday, August 10.

Field equipment will be issued to individuals, squad boxes will be packed and final preparations made to leave the following morning, at the Tuesday assembly.

Assembly will be held that evening at 8 p. m. All members will be required to be present at this formation and remain overnight at the Army in previous years, the captain declares.

Information relative to the uniform to be worn enroute to the camp, equipment to be taken in squad boxes or carried in the individual pack, will be given at the meeting.

The captain reminds that no soldier is excused from attending in camp except upon authority conferred through the office of the commandant and then only upon rare and exceptional circumstances.

The captain warns that the necessary disciplinary action will be taken against any member absent from formation Tuesday night, August 10.

COUNTRY CLUB TO PLAY MIDDLETOWN

With a season's record of two victories against one defeat, the Xenia Country Club will engage in a return inter-city golf match with the Middletown Country Club over the local nine-hole course Wednesday afternoon, August 11, according to a schedule arranged for the season.

Middletown is the only club to conquer Xenia this season, the lone defeat coming by a close margin in the first match of the year, June 30, at Middletown.

Since that defeat, Xenia has emerged victorious by wide margins in matches with Washington C. H. and Wilmington.

Local golfers hope to avenge the early season reverse and at the same time maintain their record of two years standing of not losing a match on the Xenia links.

There were reports that Col. Phelan, chairman of the committee and commander of the "fighting" Irish 69th regiment would say to Sergeant Tunney of the Marines—

"we soldiers must stick together; you can't have a license to fight."

And to Dempsey, the same rumor had it Col. Phelan will say, "out with you you can't fight in this state." This would put Tunney in the position of the recipient of a saddle without a horse.

It is also rumored the license bureau may take of the applications of the two fighters, lay them aside and tell them to come back in two weeks.

The longer he is held in suspense the less chance Rickard has to pull off the fight.

Tunney doesn't have to worry. If Dempsey gets his license the committee will have to give him one.

ALPHA PIRATES LOSE TO DAYTON

McMickel struck out ten batters but experienced one bad inning, the second, when the home team tallied a quartet of runs, and the Dayton Moderns of Woodmen of America defeated the Alpha Pirates 4 to 2 Sunday afternoon at Dayton.

All the scoring of the game was produced in the second frame. Seipel had the better of the Alpha twirler in one of the finest pitching battles of the season.

Alpha escaped a shutout by scoring twice in the second.

The losers outthit the Woodmen nine to seven but missed several chances to score. Nine pirates were left stranded on the sacks and fast fielding by the Dayton nine cut off many runs.

Sanford led both teams in hitting with three singles. Greer was the batting luminary for Alpha with a double and single.

Score by innings:

CAMPS TO DISBAND LAST OF THIS WEEK

With the thirty-day summer field training period nearing a close, members of the Greene County delegation of youths attending the Citizen's Military Training Camps at Camp Knox and Fort Thomas, Ky., and Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., are expected to return home at the end of this week.

Greene County's delegation of nineteen youths have been at the encampments since about the middle of July. All mid-summer training periods close about the middle of August.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(UP)—

Amsterdam is planning to erect the most ornate plant that ever has been built for the comfort and convenience of Olympic athletes and spectators.

The United Press has been favored with a drawing of the stadium through the courtesy of G. van Rossem, general secretary of the Nederlandsch Olympisch Comité, which is to act as the host of the world's greatest athletes who will compete in the 1928 games.

Although the program and the dates have not been decided upon by the International Olympic Committee, the Holland officials have gone ahead with their financial arrangements and have funds sufficient to erect a plant they feel will be the best looking and the most comfortable that ever has been used for the Olympic games.

The drawing shows a most extensive and expansive layout, and architectural style equalled only by the tiny stadium at Antwerp, which may have had some shortcomings but certainly lacked nothing in beauty.

Plans have been drawn for a huge stadium for the track and field games, a big pool for aquatic events, a field for polo and the equestrian games, a large field for cricket and football, a track for the cycling races, a large tennis plant and a village for the athletes.

Near the plant is also a course for rowing and yachting.

In Paris the games were spread all over and all around the city but Amsterdam has decided upon having the entire program conducted practically under one roof, a great convenience alike to trainers, athletes and spectators.

The tennis plant is to be made very complete, with a center court surrounded by stands and including three courts and ten courts outside.

The completeness of the plant and the thoroughness of the plans probably will come as a surprise to some members of the international committee who wanted Holland to produce some cash in sight to guarantee that the games could be sponsored properly.

Los Angeles, two years ago, was offering all kinds of inducements to get the 1928 games such as paying traveling expenses of all foreign teams to and from Los Angeles. This offer, of course, appealed to some of the less wealthy foreign nations but complaint was made that it flavored of professionalism and that Holland deserved at least the courtesy of an attempt to organize the games.

"You don't know those Dutch people," a prominent member of the committee said. "They don't make much noise when they're doing things but they do them and do them right."

As far as advance arrangements are concerned, the Dutch surely plan to do it right and no doubt will do it.

"Not Possible To Classify"

By Mack Sauer

A few jottings of the day by Samuel Pepps, Jr.: By five o'clock up and did find, to my heart's content, my mouse trap snapped and a mouse caught, too; which will be good news for my wife, poor wretch, she being frightened to death, nearly, of them, so that she has gone to the country, hurra; hurra.

To see whether the lightning had done hurt to my house, and joyed to find it had not, yet the rain beat mightily upon my wife's fern, and I would have dumped it over the bank, so little is my care for flowers, but I durst not for fear of hurting her feelings. This morning away to see Bob Kingsbury, to buy a pair of socks and was talked into a sweater of new fashion, a silly thing which I will not wear, but which is all the rage these days.

Anon to the office where came a fellow with whom I went to school in Athens, and full of fun we were in recalling old memories of this and that, but in especial about fraternity initiations, which we will never forget as long as we live. A mighty crude poem about flappers came through the mails, it being of ridiculous phrasing and how it got into print is beyond my poor brain to fathom.

In the evening was called by a woman who told of how an article she found through a Lost ad in the Gazette and of how she is full of praise for our classified page and means to send me a jug of cider for my terrible thirst, if she has to go as far to buy it, for which I am mighty thankful.

Read some fine words about Henry Ford and then to bed. And what a great fear I had for a good time, hearing a noise of talking in the house; so up to see, and it was my radio which I had forgotten to turn off. So lay long troubled about my coal bill and getting no vacation.

Goes to World's End to "Shoot" Sun To Get Long Range Weather Forecasts

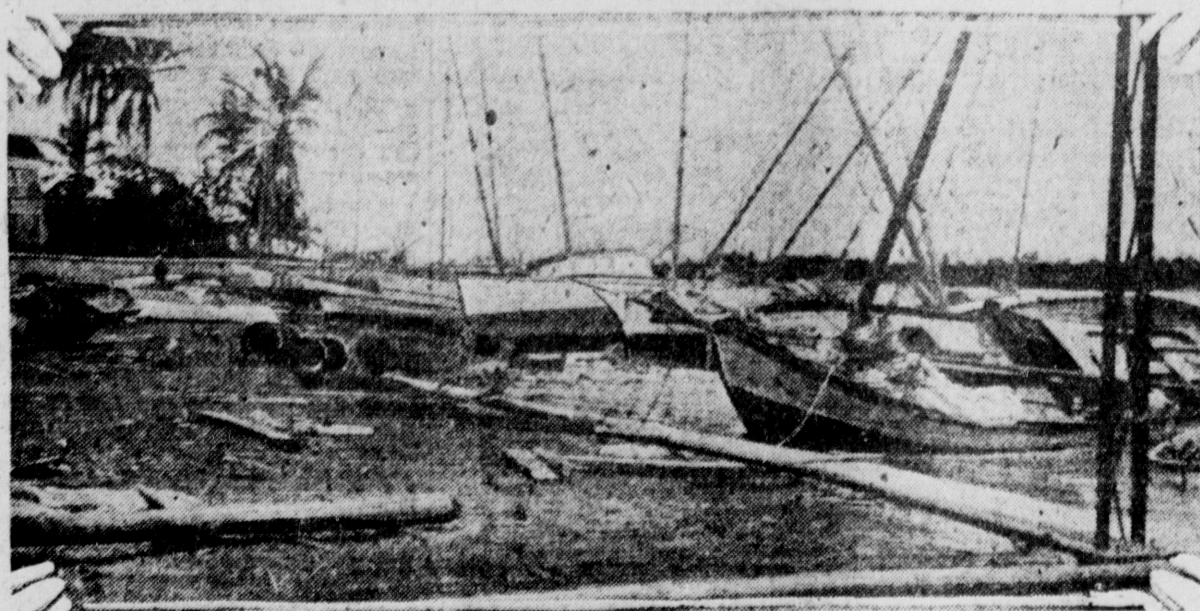

In an effort to "shoot the sun" with the utmost accuracy and obtain data for long range weather forecasts, Dr. Charles G. Abbot has completed a 30,000-mile trip to Southwest Africa, where he established a station for his "sun gun" with which he is shown here. The primary object of Dr. Abbot's research is to measure the sun's radiation; any small variation in that radiation serves as the basis for an expected weather change.

Mexican Police Fire Into Crowd to Disperse Catholics; Prelate Hauled Before Justice for Failure to Heed Law

The seriousness of the church and state conflict in Mexico is made immediately apparent as the Calles edict and the boycott of the Catholic church go into force, almost simultaneously. Main photo shows crowd outside of Guadalupe Cathedral, Mexico City, into which the police fired before it would disperse. In the oval is seen the chief justice of Mexico city reprimanding the Catholic prelate Mier y Laran, right, for his refusal to obey the municipal orders in regard to church services.

The Gilded Rose

By May Christie

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

ROSILYN RIDGEWAY learns on her wedding day from idle gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an over-worked little drudge in her father's inn.

LANDIS RIDGEWAY, her husband is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother.

FLORENCE RIDGEWAY, an aristocratic old lady, who saw poverty staring her in the face, and chose the easiest way out. Rosilyn loving her husband, knows that he is still in love with Lydia Harbrook, a beautiful, cold society girl who is bent on marrying SIEVIE VAN VORST, a wealthy old roue, although she is really fond of Ridgeway. She is in Paris when the news reaches her of Landis' marriage and she hastens back to the United States. With her goes Rupert Briscoe, a dissipated man of the world, who has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and when the two reach New York, she suggests that they ask the young Ridgeways to dinner, she and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby through an apparent misunderstanding Rosilyn and Briscoe will be left alone together, while she will be with her beloved Landis.

Landis, finding himself alone with Lydia falls under her spell once more. Some hours later that evening, Rosilyn who is bewildered to find herself spending the evening in the company of Rupert Briscoe, sees her husband dancing with Lydia—in his eyes a look of rapture. She believes he has seen her but is too rude—or ashamed—to speak. Briscoe asks her to go on to a night-club, and in a mood of recklessness she consents.

In Paris Van Vorst, realizing the reason for Lydia's sudden trip to America and hungering for her love, decides to use Marietta, a dancer and sweet heart of Briscoe's in connection with a plan. "These two arrange to come to New York where Marietta is to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer."

Long after Rosilyn's return home Lydia, by a clever ruse persuades Landis to take her for a taxi ride to Jersey. There in the early dawn speeding through the country side his old infatuation asserts itself and he gathers the girl in his arms.

Landis returns from Jersey leaves Lydia and from finding his wife's door locked decides to put up at his club. Early the next morning he receives a phone call from Lydia.

At about the same time Rosilyn awakes, finds that Landis is missing, and greets his mother who has come for a chat. The latter intimates that the girl had better not allow her son too much rope.

Mrs. Ridgeway leaves while Rosilyn makes elaborate preparation to meet Landis and select furnishings for their home. She takes special pains with her clothes realizing that she must compete with the fair Lydia.

Landis phones, breaking his appointment for lunch, but while eating alone downstairs in the dining room Rosilyn sees Briscoe appear on the scene. He hurries over to her table.

A TEMPTING ORCHID

"I also heard that you are catching a train early this afternoon," the newcomer went on, pleasantly. "I've brought my own car along, and I can run up to the station, if you'll permit me."

Rosilyn colored. What would Landis say to that? If he had seen them both last night—but of course Mr. Briscoe had explained matters. —wouldn't he think this second meeting, following so abruptly on the heels of yesterday, a trifle odd?

"Does—does my husband—know you intended coming here?"

Briscoe gave his easy, well-bred laugh.

"I didn't say so. But, knowing Landis, he'll be glad you're being taken care of."

The manner of this was so possessive that the timid bride shrank farther into her shell. The free-and-easy ways of this smart set were quite beyond her comprehension.

She was comparatively silent throughout the brief meal. Her vis-à-vis chatted in his pleasant fashion.

He was companionable, was Rupert Briscoe. And today he gave no hint of ardour. Last night's parting words appeared to Rosilyn to have been but a figment of her own imagination.

As the moments slipped away, her reserve and shyness thawed a little. It was good to have a kindly, understanding friend. The little attentions of this eminently attractive man stood out in sharp antithesis to her bridegroom's casual conduct.

The meal over, he handed her into his car.

"Which station?"

"Pennsylvania, please."

He gave the chauffeur his instructions and got in beside the girl.

"We're going down to Landis' country place," she said. "I've never seen it. I believe it's quite lovely, though he hasn't afforded to live there for years and years." Then she bit her lip over the factlessness of the last remark. How ill-bred he would think her and no fortune. Hadn't some of his set—those hateful women at the wedding—referred to her as the "Gilded Rose?"

"You mean Royal Cliff? They have not been able to let it for four years. It needed too much doing up I understand."

"You've been there?" asked Rosilyn.

The man hesitated for an imperceptible moment.

"No." And then he added—

CUTICURA HEALS LARGE PIMPLES

Hard and Red. Scattered Over Face. Itched and Burned.

"Pimples were scattered all over my face and made it look badly. They were very hard, large and red, and after a few days would fester. The pimples itched and burned causing me to scratch at times."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using the sample I purchased one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, which completely healed me." (Signed) Miss Ruby Pinney, Bosworth, Mo.

Mexican Laborers Parade to Show Faith

As a demonstration of their support of the Government's steps against the church, 50,000 members of the national Mexican labor federation paraded in Mexico City. This shows a section of the demonstration.

"I've only known Landis in the last three years, in a manner of speaking. Charming fellow! And"—with a meaning glance at the girl beside him—"a very, very lucky one!"

She flushed again. Was he referring to her money? But of course he was, no matter how much he might camouflage his attitude. Only too painfully had it been brought to her consciousness that—without her money—she was zero, and—even though a wealthy woman now—of very little count in her husband's life! Not that he didn't treat her with the utmost courtesy. Not that he, in words, had ever actually slighted her.

But yet—! Rupert Briscoe lifted a little issue paper package from a small compartment of his car, undid the wrappings and drew out a magnificent specimen of a single orchid, with a spray of asparagus fern set all about it.

"I saw this in a street florist's window and it intrigued me mightily," he remarked. "You'll wear it, won't you?"

Rosilyn drew back. Beautiful as was the flower, to the country girl there was something sinister in its strange exotic loveliness!

"I—I couldn't. It wouldn't—suit me."

Conscious of the ungraciousness of that, she was distressed. "What else could she say?"

"You are mistaken child! For a moment, the caressing note was in the man's voice again. "I bought it because I had a fancy that it would bring out a hidden something in your personality—something that I can't define, but which glimmered for a moment once or twice last night!" He gave his well-bred careless laugh, and yet, behind his eyes a purpose lay. "Don't think me mad! I often take such fancies, and I always make a point of humoring them."

Without touching it, Rosilyn regarded the exotic flower.

"You'll think me mad when I tell you that it frightens me! Oh, I know it's very beautiful and very rare and fearfully expensive, but—she shivered—"somehow it suggests, beneath its loveliness, death and decay and slimy swamps and creeping things!"

"Come, come!" He made as though to pin the orchid on her gown.

"It's perfectly true." She smiled ruefully, at the same time drawing away from him. "They do grow in jungly swamps, don't they? And death lurks under their beauty. Even the petals of the flower, so waxen are—are sort of corpse-like!"

The man beside her gave a hearty laugh.

"Such an imagination! Hadn't you an Irish mother?"

"Yes."

"Then that accounts for it! The bit about the 'creeping things' is good. You mean that I'm the serpent entering your Eden, don't you?"

She flushed to the roots of her hair at that. Her Eden? She had missed it, hadn't she? Landis and Lydia—

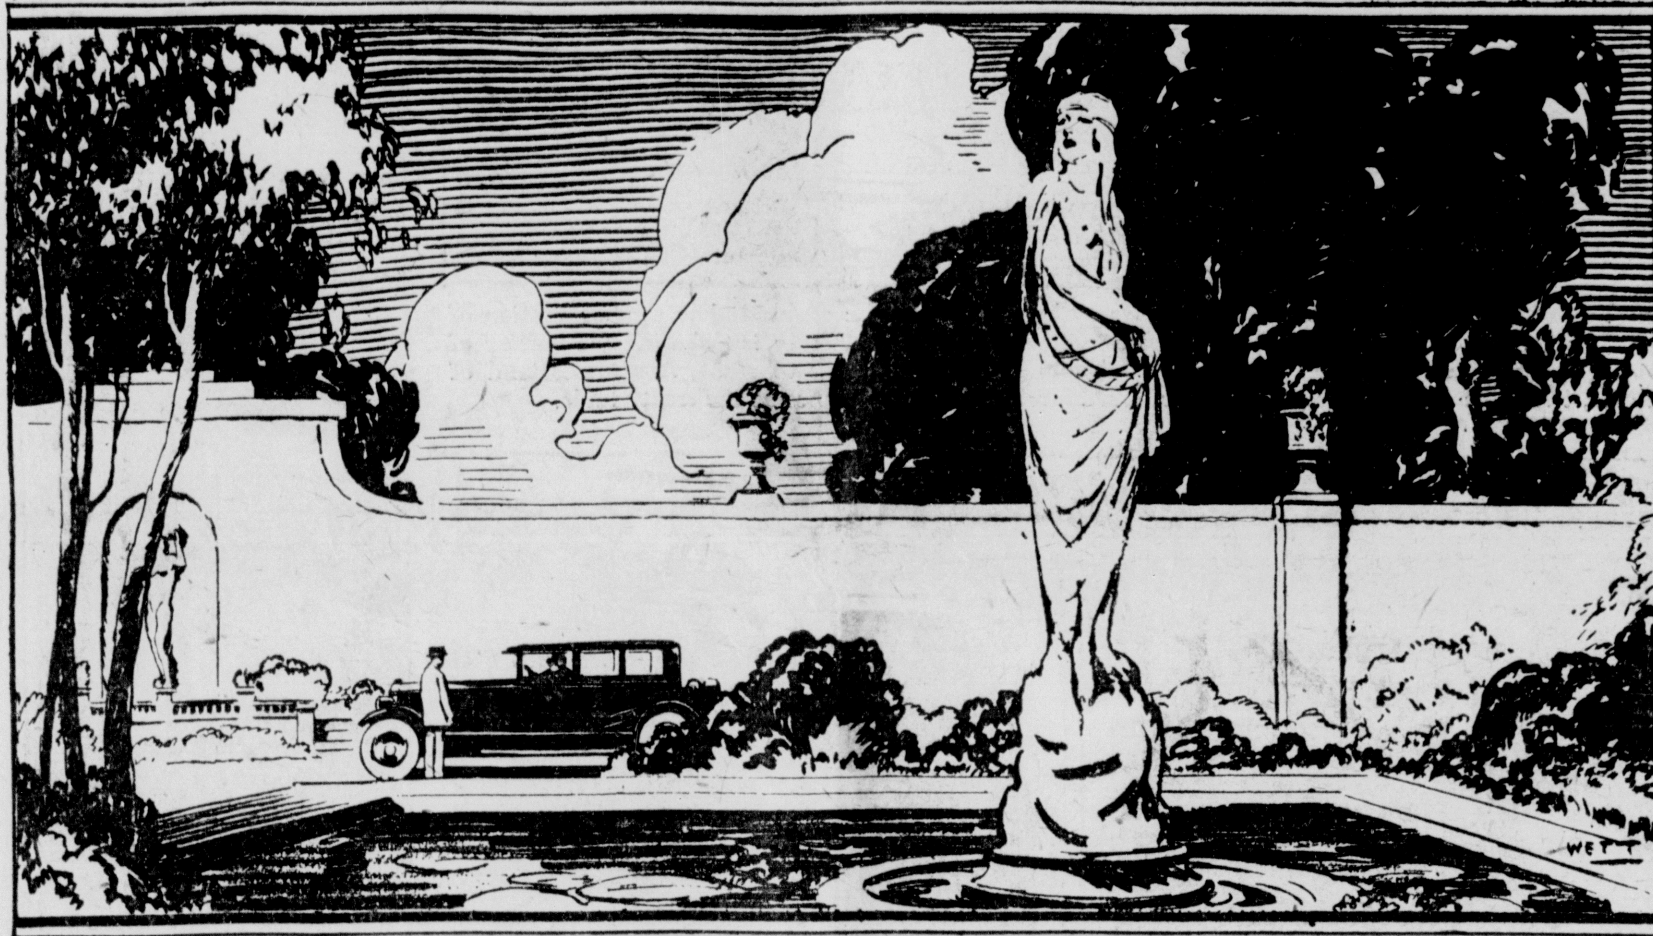

Her outward mood changed from superstition to forced gaiety and recklessness.

"Such a fuss about a flower! Of course I'll wear it." She took the orchid from his hand and pinned it coquettishly to her left shoulder, in the newest fashion. "Will I pass muster now?"

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Questions and Answers about "What Makes a Good Tire?"

Question—Does any one single feature make a good tire?

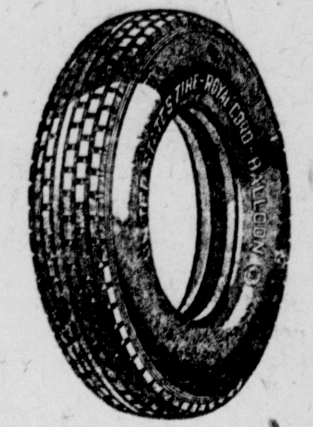

Answer—No.

Question—Then what does make a good tire?

Answer—The perfection of all the different operations that are necessary in producing the finished product from tree to tire.

Question—As for example?

Answer—The success of the United States Royal Cord Balloon in delivering true balloon cushioning and comfort, and yet giving long-lasting service is largely due to these six important factors:

Plantations

The United States Rubber Company owns and operates scientific Rubber Plantations in Sumatra and Malaya. Has 7,000,000 rubber trees, all yielding latex now, from which this Company produces its Sprayed Rubber and its Latex-treated Web Cord.

Sprayed Rubber

Of the greatest importance, because of its fine quality, and its freedom from acid and smoke. Briefly, the latex is sprayed into a chamber containing hot, dry air, which dries out the liquid from the latex, leaving the pure, solid rubber. This does away with the old methods of smoke-drying and acid coagulation.

Uniform Cotton Cord

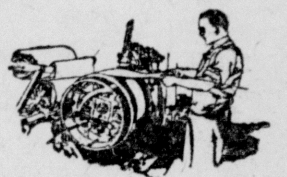

To insure absolute uniformity and high quality of the cotton cord used in United States Tires, the United States Rubber Company operates its own cotton mills at Winnsboro, South Carolina. Here the choicest grade cotton is made into cords to produce Latex-treated Web Cord.

Latex-treated Web Cord

Also an invention of the United States Rubber technicians. The cords are laid parallel without tie-threads, and soaked in virgin rubber latex, which forms an elastic web through and through and between the cords. Important because it gives the cord structure maximum strength and maximum flexibility.

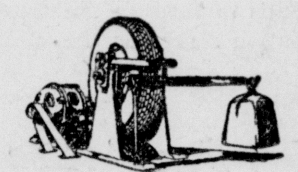

Flat-Band Method of Building Tires

Do not miss the importance of this revolutionary improvement in tire-building. The way it works is highly technical. But the result is that each cord in a United States Royal Cord is made to lie in exactly the right position, under precisely the right tension, and to take its due share of the work.

Searching Tests from the Tree to the Tire

United States Tire tests begin with the raw materials—and these tests never stop. Many tests are made during the process of manufacture and finished tires undergo various factory tests such as the "Tread Wear Test" illustrated. Even after the tires are sold and in use, their performance on the road is being checked by factory-trained experts stationed all over the country.
